The Shield

1988

In Memory Of Diane H. Mary

The greatest sadness our community experienced this year was the loss of Diane Mary. Her untimely death sent a shock wave that extended to alumni, former faculty and staff. This wonderful lady spread joy where ever she went. No matter what personal pain she suffered, her sense of humor carried her and those she touched through difficult times.

She was a friend. A friend in the true sense of the word. She listened, never judged, always had time, demanded nothing in return. She gave of herself.

Her love of this school was boundless. Having worked in offices all over campus, she knew everyone and everything about this school. She took care of her administrators and her faculty, always doing extra things to make their work easier.

The students were her favorites. To them she was mother, friend, confidant, supporter. She took them to her heart. We miss her. We feel blessed having known her.

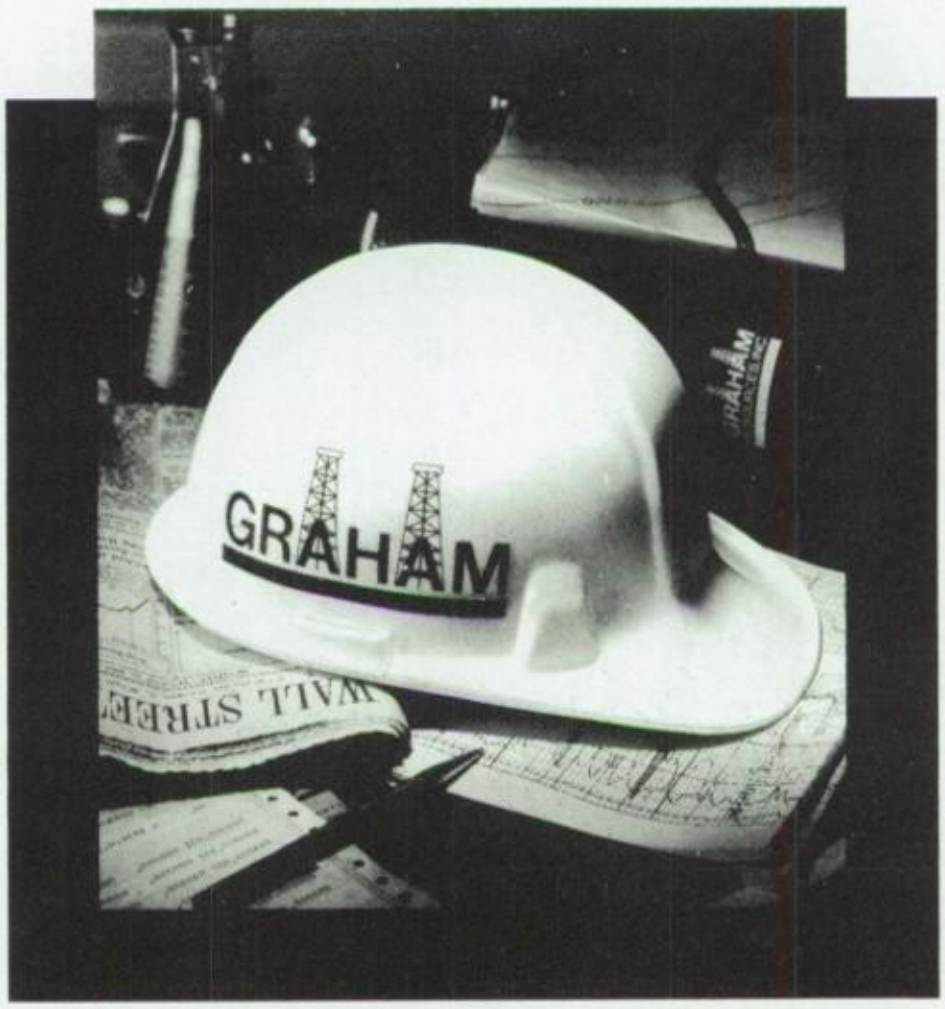
We Explore Opportunity



Graham Resources has grown from a small independent energy company into a diversified financial services organization managing a total of 1,500,000,000 from more than 100,000 individual and institutional investors.

Today, Graham ranks as the largest sponsor in the industry (with Prudential-Bache) of energy income fund limited partnerships, capturing 70 per cent of the total market in 1986 and 1987.

This broad investor base provides Graham Resources the financial stability and staying power through adverse market conditions that few independent energy-related firms can claim today.

Graham never loses sight of the key reason for its success: the fact that opportunity is only opportunity until intelligence, determination and hard work make it pay off—for investors.

For more information about Graham Resources, call or write our Public Relations Office.

Brennan's by night— it's different.

Breakfast at Brennan's— a great way to start the day. But Brennan's by night is a lovely way to end it.

At night the pace slows, as our guests experience unhurried graciousness, casual elegance, and a menu born of New Orleans itself.

Dinner is a cozy celebration of candlelight, whispers and wine and redfish and crabs and shrimp and love.

Sauces bubble, bisques thicken, and the promise is kept.

MAY

MAY — Indians — tents — feathers — World Day — medals — cartoons — end of the year! Another active month was May.
The 3rd grade celebrated Indian Day with their parents on the playground performing an Indian legend, songs and dances, a picnic and games.
World Day, a festival of international food, music, dance and art was presented in the little gym. The backdrop, consisting of a huge globe, was as brilliant as the folk costumes.
The Time-Picayune political cartoonist visited the 5th grade demonstrating the how-to of his craft and commenting on their renderings.
The year came to a close with the Awards Ceremony and lots of END-OF-THE-YEAR parties!

APRIL

APRIL — bunny rabbits — colored eggs — Easter baskets — vacation — Heavenly Days — 5th grade play! Easter arrived with a flood, sunshine, and spring vacation. Then it was back to work preparing for Heavenly Days, the talent show and then the 5th grade play.

LS families filled the quad trying their hands at bouncing ping-pong balls for a gold fish, riding ponies AND a stagecoach, ringing the bell to Test Their Strength, and dunking a "friend."

The end of April saw the 5th grade production of "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness," a music, folk dance, drama extravaganza complete with a giant American flag.

MARCH

MARCH — rocks — batteries — vegetation — outer space — puppets! The fourth grade drama students presented original puppet shows to the MS Family Life classes on alcohol abuse, the US History class on women's rights, made 2 presentations in LS Chapel and entertained the pre-K and Kindergartens in the library. Busy, busy little hands!

The little gym became the Smithsonian Institute of St. Martin's in March as the fifth graders became inventors and scientists. The Science Fair displayed creative genius, curiosity and hours of work done by the students. Extensive studies on hearts, plants and outer space filled table after table, and awed the spectators. Perhaps we are nurturing another Thomas Edison or Alexander Graham Bell!!!

FEBRUARY

FEBRUARY — costumes — beads — floats — Mardi Gras — books! For the pre-kindergarteners and kindergarteners, February was busy and exciting as they designed and made their floats and costumes. Animals, monsters and spacemen were seen all over the LS Quad as the parade began. Yes, there were even chickens! Teachers, as well as children, marched around the quad throwing beads and doubloons.

Also in February, Mrs. Gail E. Haley, a children's author and winner of the Caldecott award for the best illustrations, was a guest on campus. She read excerpts from her books, gave a puppet demonstration and then autographed books to the delight of her readers.

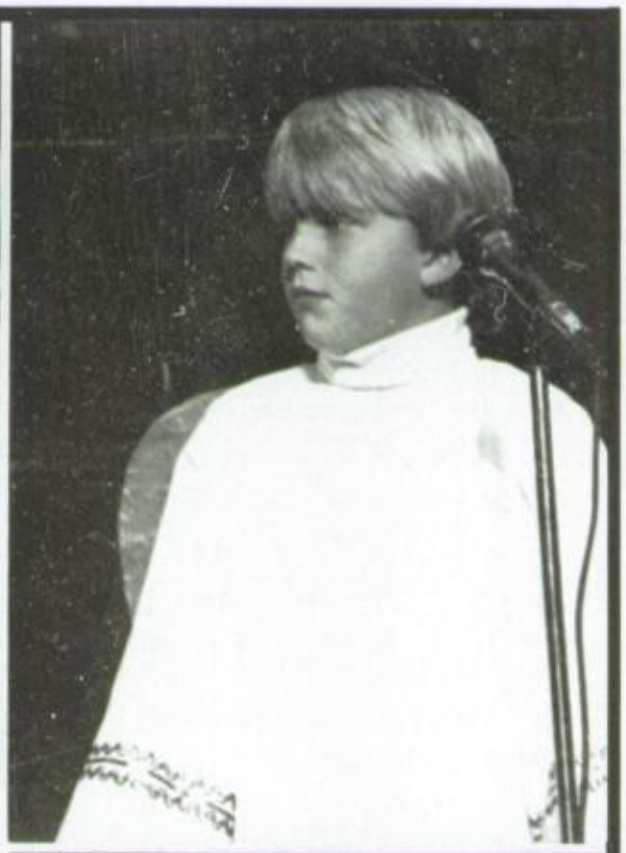
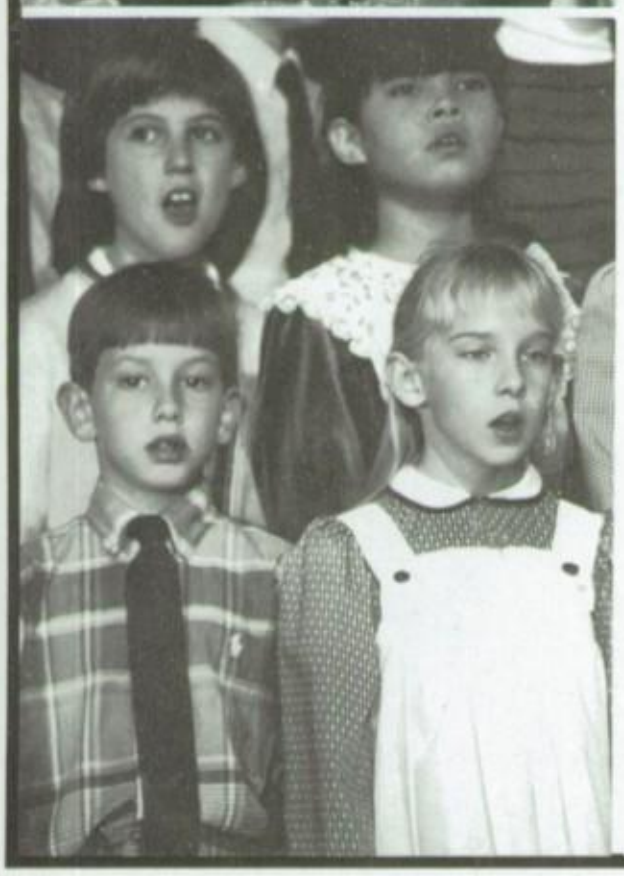
JANUARY

JANUARY — 1988 — field trips — flu — vision screening — Senior Teacher Day! The arrival of 1988 brought the flu bug, but that did not deter the enthusiasm of field trips. The playground, a favorite spot for active minds and bodies, was busy as usual. Coated and hooded architects played their trade in the sand box with future skydivers daring the slides. Senior Teacher Day gave the Lower Schoolers a new opportunity to test the patience of bewildered Upper School students.

1987





DECEMBER

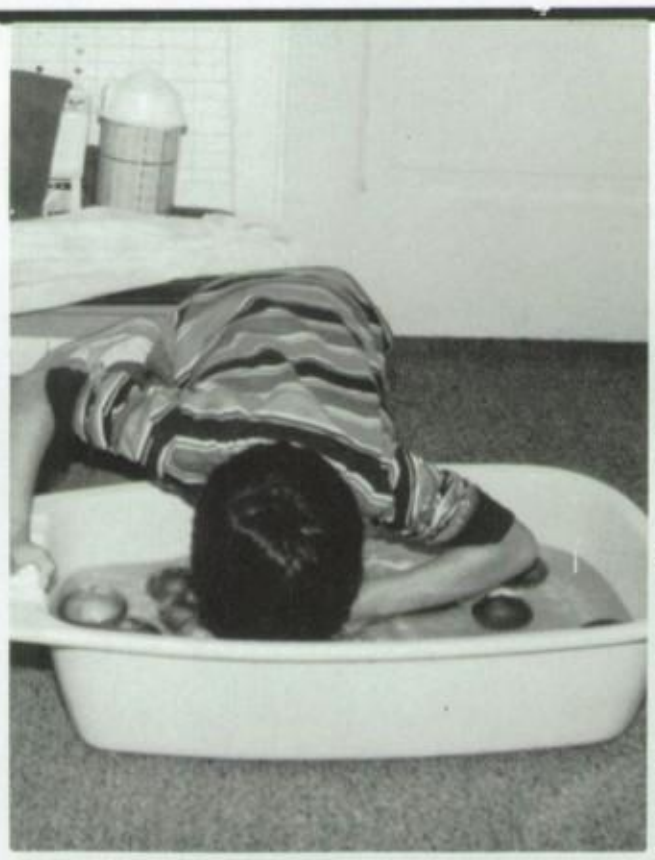
DECEMBER — jack frost — reindeer — presents — Christmas play — SANTA CLAUS! Busy little hands created millions of snowflakes, paper chains and stars to decorate walls, ceilings and trees. The White Chapel service began the holiday activities, followed by the writing of Santa letters, a well rehearsed Christmas play, parties with Santa Claus, and green cupcakes.

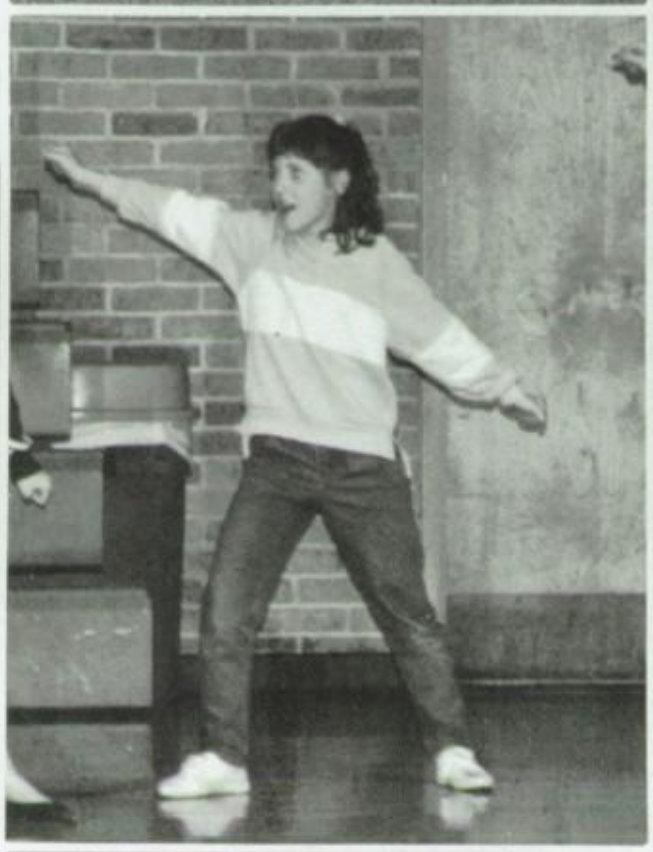
1987

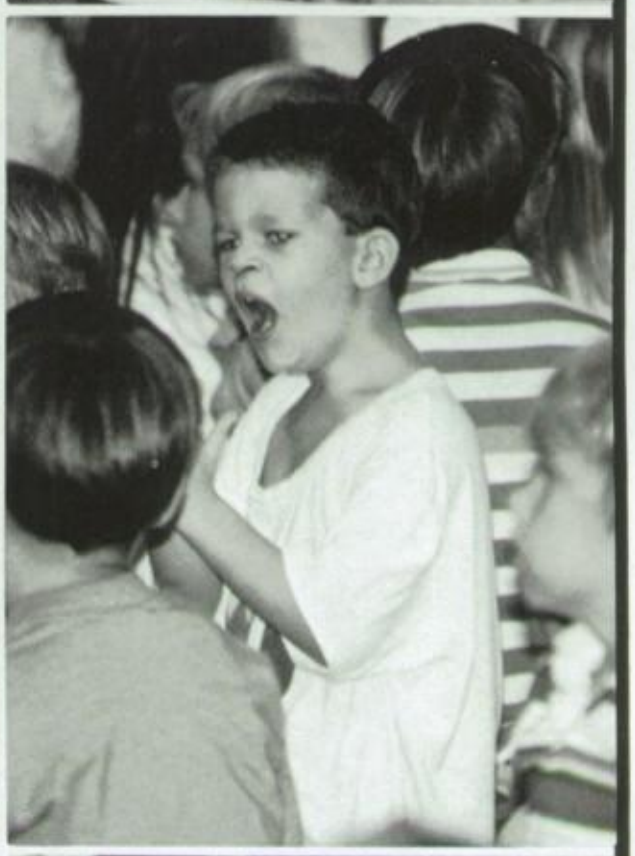
NOVEMBER

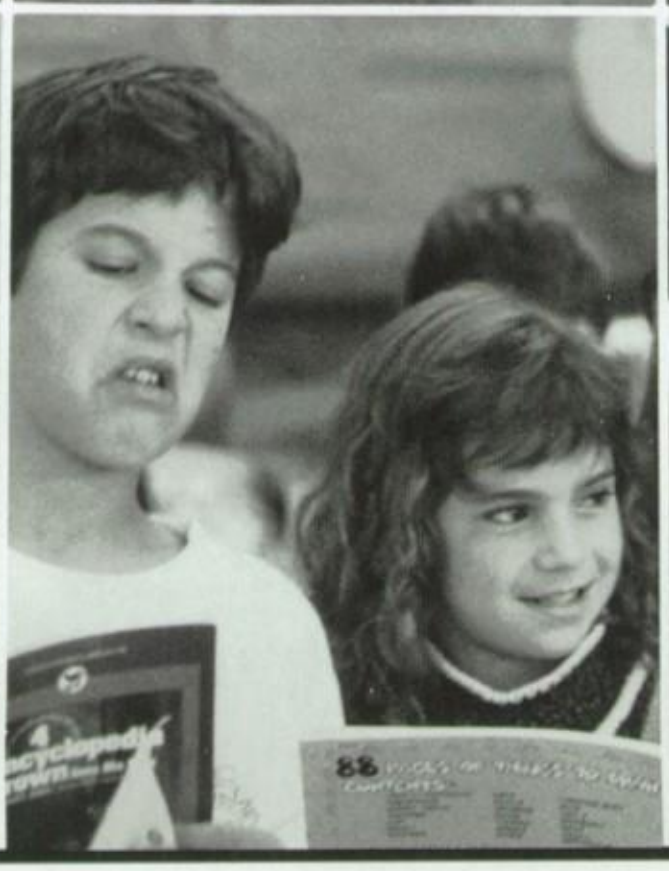
NOVEMBER — StM Day — Sound of Music — Thanksgiving! On St. Martin's Day, the Lower Schoolers dressed in red, white and blue, handed out hats, devoured tons of hot dogs, hamburgers, Cokes, and excelled in the games. Several children shone like stars in the all school musical, The Sound of Music. Thanksgiving ended the month with hundreds of pilgrims and Indians landing on St. Martin's quadrangle.

1987



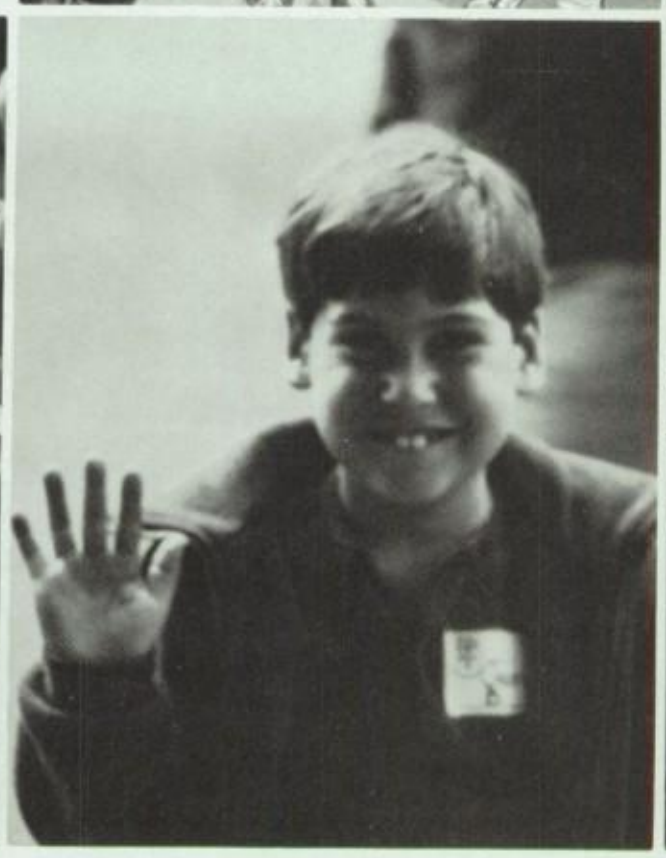


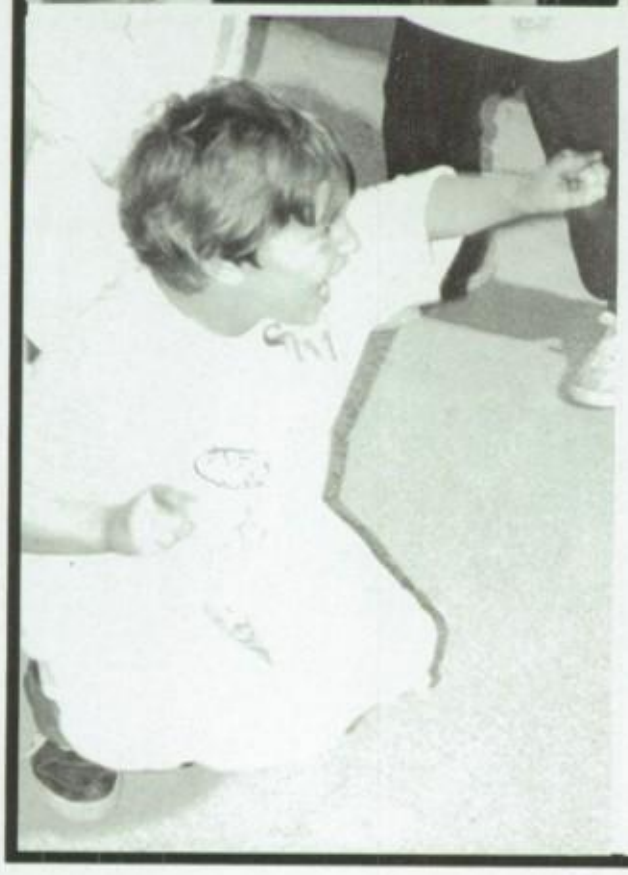




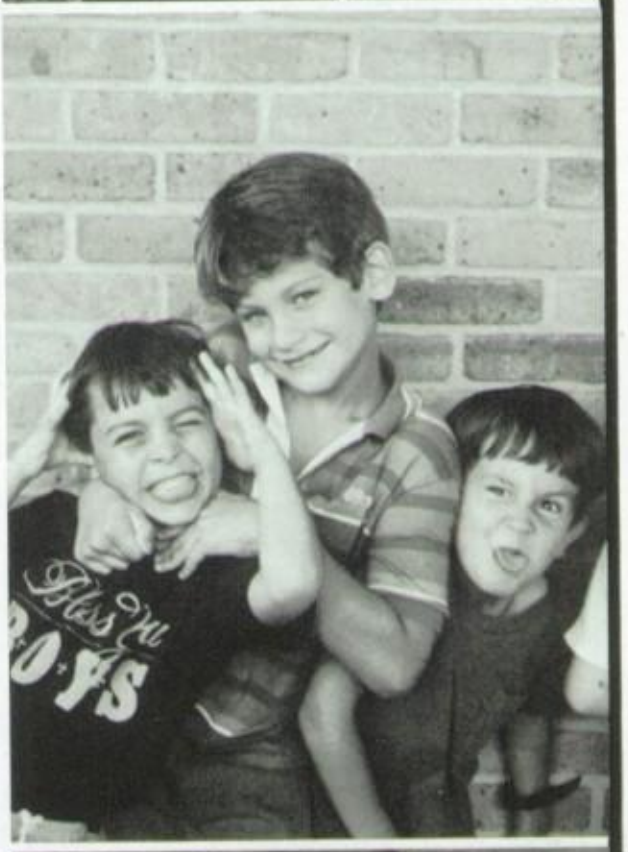
OCTOBER

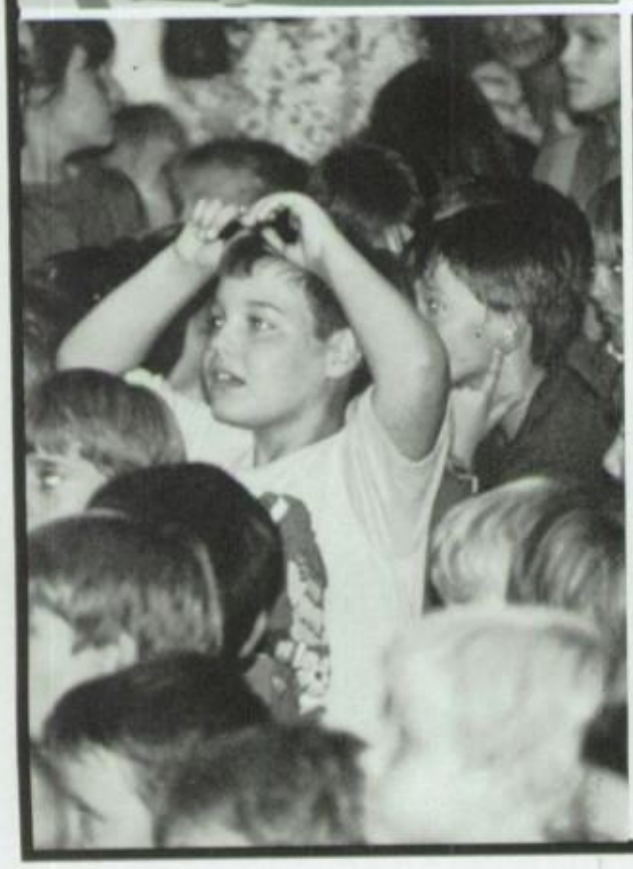
OCTOBER — Homecoming — spooks — witches — Jack-o-lanterns! The Lower Schoolers got into the spirit of homecoming by wearing their special Saints vs. Panthers T-shirts. At one game, several Lower Schoolers became honorary cheerleaders by leading the entire stands. Halloween, of course, was the highlight of the month. Volunteer parents portrayed witches, carved pumpkins, and served orange cupcakes. The children played spooky games including the all time favorite — dunking for apples.





1987





SEPTEMBER

SEPTEMBER — school days — laughter — confusion — old friends — new friends! All the elements that bring excitement to the beginning of a new year. This excitement permeated the playground, the classrooms and the pep rallies. Very quickly the Lower Schoolers realized the fun of supporting the football teams with ear-deafening shouts!

SERVICE CLUB

The Service Club is comprised of 4th and 5th grade students who have the responsibility of doing various jobs for the Lower School. The students are selected by their classmates each quarter, and they are recognizable by the orange belts that they wear.

Some of their jobs include raising the flag, opening car doors in the morning and greeting parents and students with a cheery smile and a warm "hello," escorting pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students to their buses, as well as serving as messengers.

All of their hard work is rewarded at the end of their term by a trip to McDonald's for lunch with their sponsors.

TEACHERS' ASSISTANTS

Jackie Graham

Kip Blake

Tootie Conway

The teachers' assistants of the kindergarten and pre-kindergarten levels support both the students and the teachers. At this age, the children still need a "little" help with things from shoe tying to story writing.

The assistants help the teachers design bulletin boards, read stories, take attendance, prepare art projects, centers, snacks, and with playground duty. You will often find the assistants escorting children to special classes (music, P.E., science, art, swimming, etc.), handling car pool and bus duty, and a multitude of miscellaneous tasks as the need arises. Each day brings new and unexpected challenges for the assistant.

EXTENDED DAY

The Extended-Day Kindergarten began at noon with lunch, a rest, a snack, story time, activity time and then play time. For some of the more memorable activity periods, kindergarteners had airplane races, played with toys on Car and Truck Day, and brought stuffed bears for Bear Day. The children also had mini-tours, so a trip to the wrestling room was a definite favorite. Cooking is also a favorite pastime, and the food they concocted was appetizing along with a cake for Jesus' birthday and "garp" for a hiking snack. Our afternoons were busy!

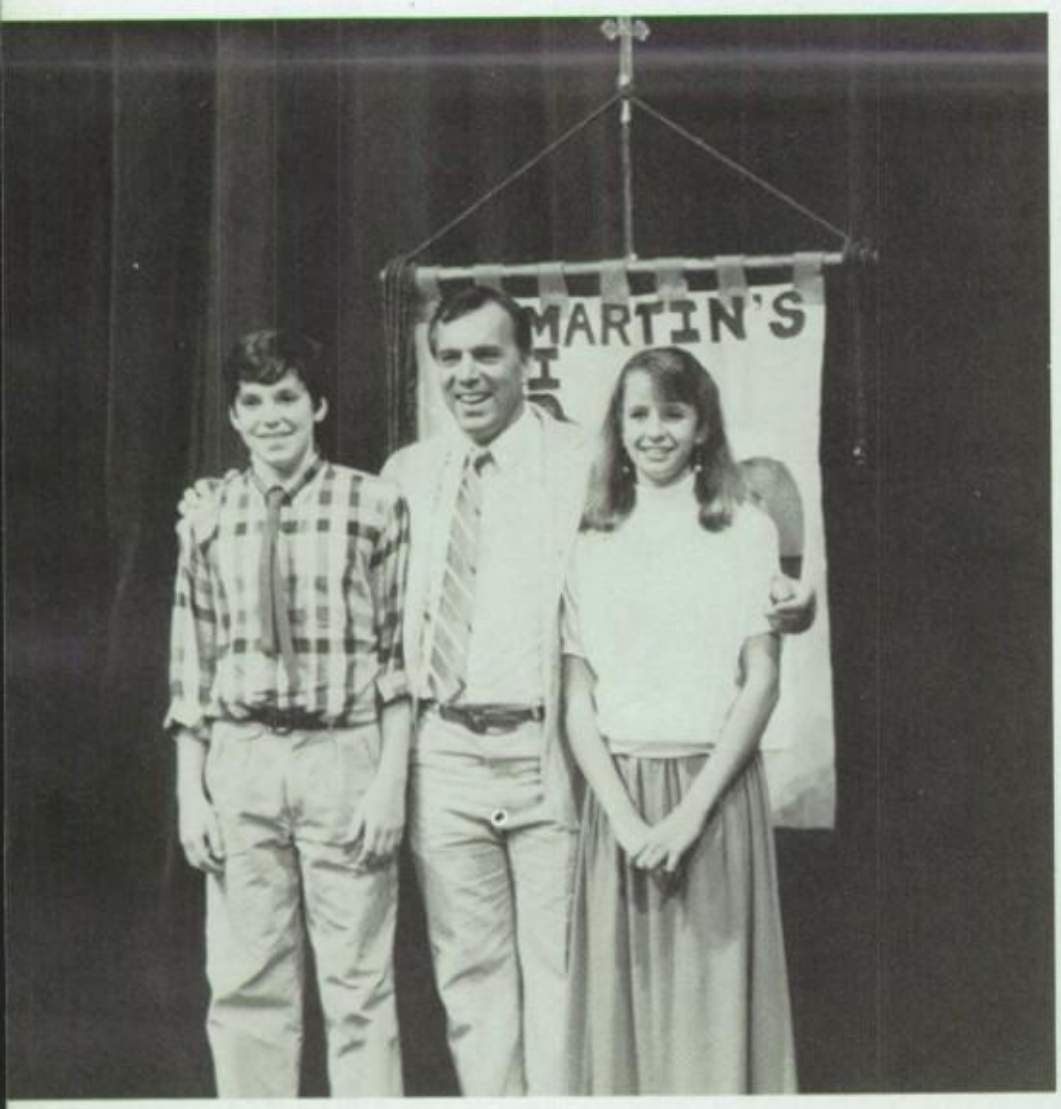
MIDDLE SCHOOL SPORTS

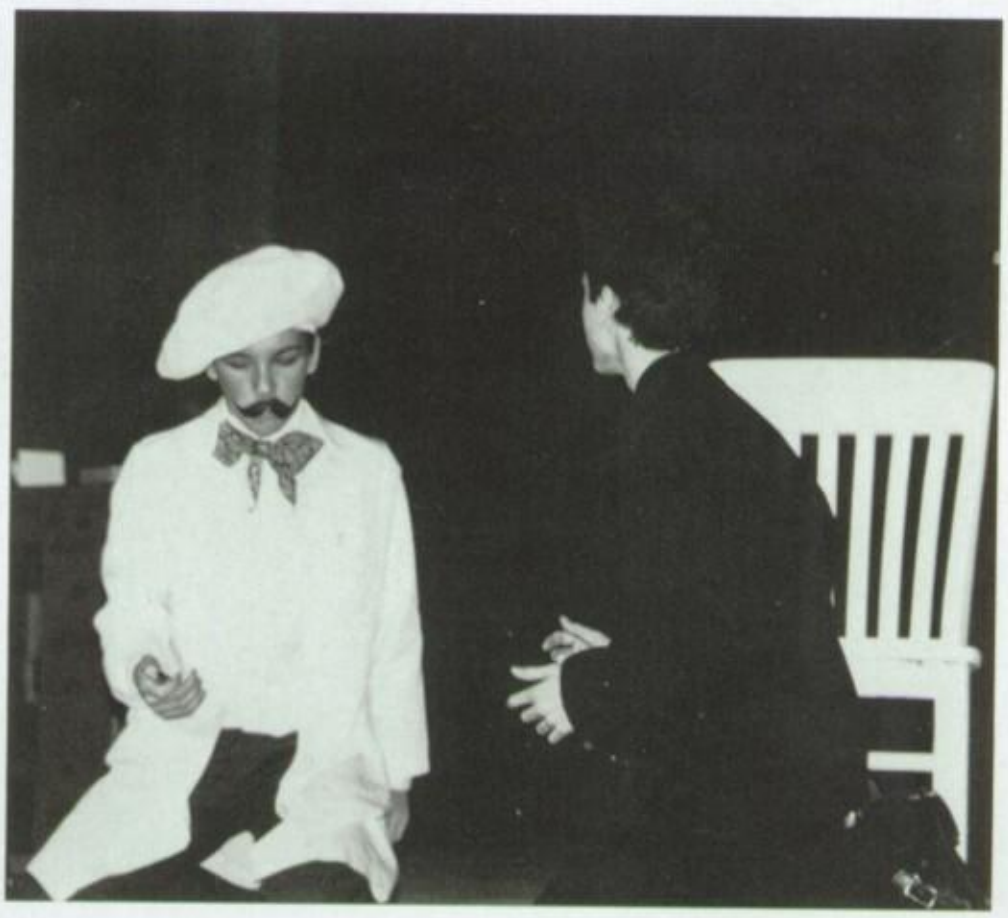
THE LAST DAY



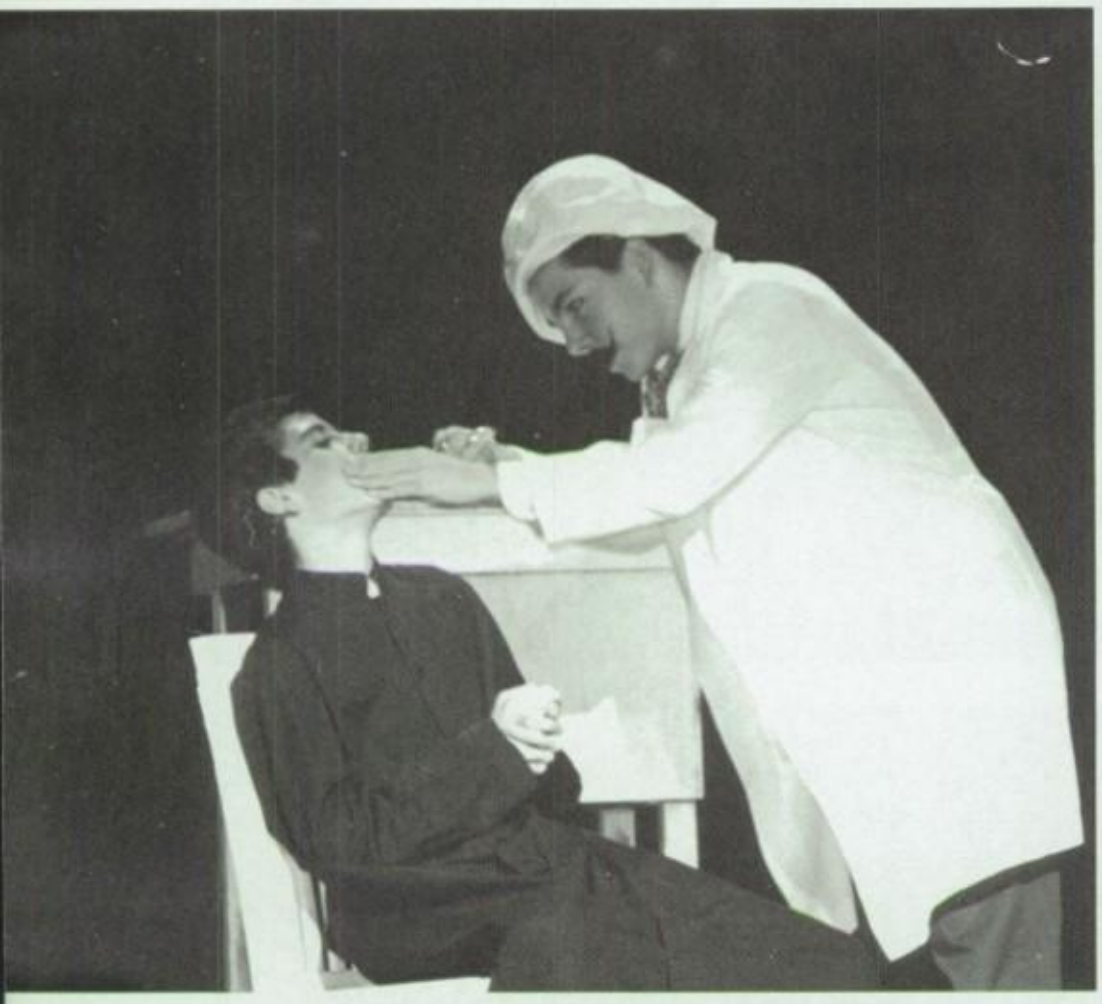
June 1, 1988, 8:30 am. The Middle Schoolers were sitting in the cafeteria for the last time this year. This was it; their last day of school!! As they sat eating their delicious breakfasts, thoughts raced through their heads. "Who would win the English Award? Maybe me?" . . . "I can't wait to go to Florida for vacation!" . . . "Camp starts next week!" . . . By 9:30 am, the students were headed for the chapel to receive their awards. Then it was good-bye St. Martin's; hello summer!!!

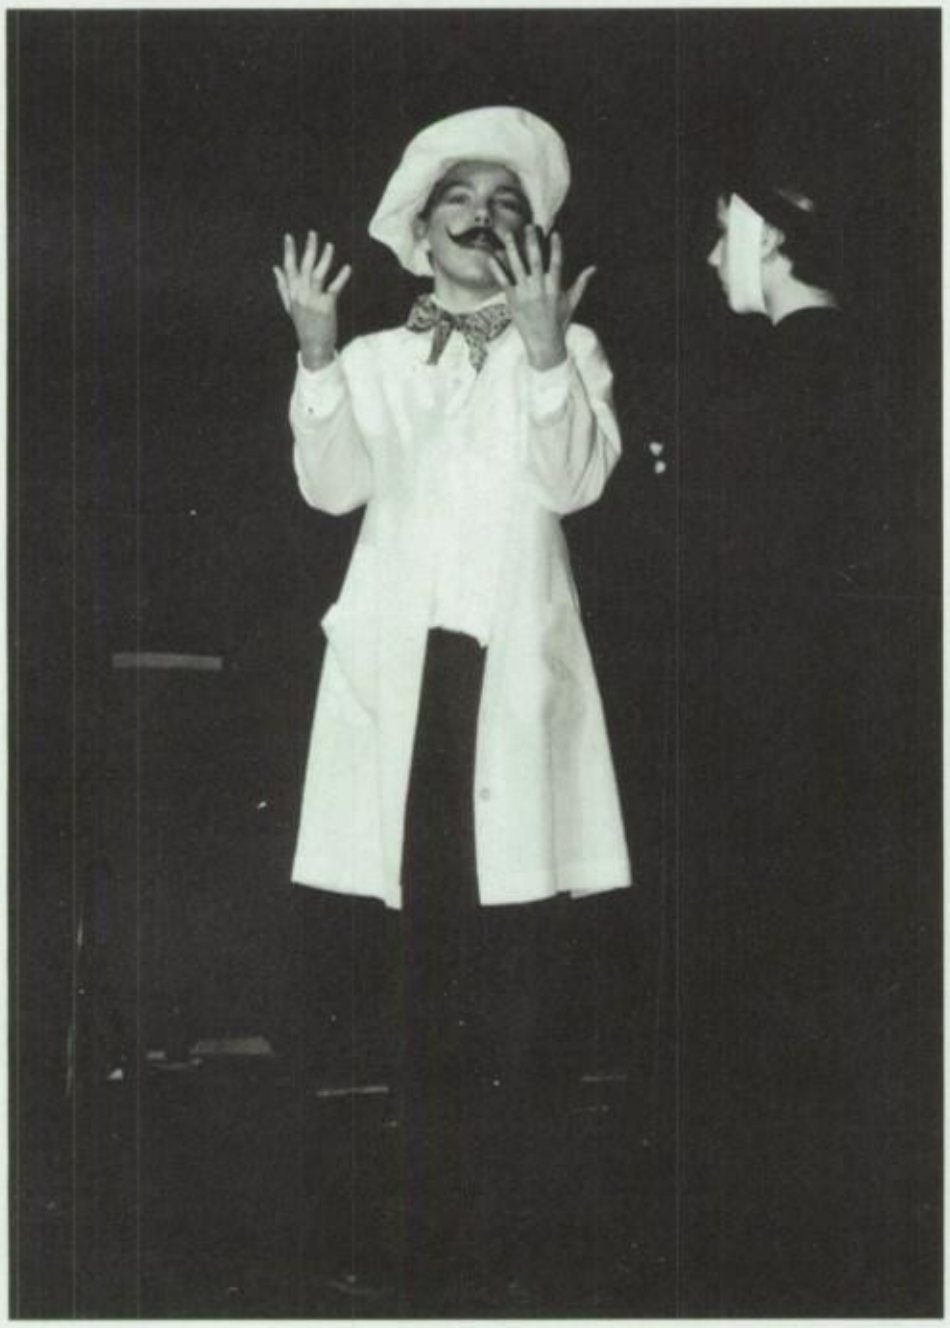
SHOWGROUP

The Middle School Showgroup, directed by Mary McNeill, consisted of 35 talented members of the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. This group, after hours of rehearsal, began their season with performances at the Superdome and the Riverwalk. They also performed at various school functions. To end their year, they went to St. Louis to compete with others schools at the National competition. There, they placed in the top 9 — an excellent job. Congratulations to all involved!!



THE GOOD DOCTOR





The Good Doctor, by Neil Simon, was the Middle School drama department's spring offering. The show is a composite of skits dealing with various facets of society in the early 1900's. The cast of 26 kept the audience thoroughly entertained with their interpretation of Mr. Simon's droll characters.

FATHER/SON BASEBALL GAME

"Batter up!!"

The fans.

"I can't believe this!"

"Unfair?!?"

A new tradition was begun for the middle school baseball teams this year which proved to be a huge success. Team members and their families gathered for a picnic followed by a Father Vs. Son softball doubleheader. The eighth grade fathers handed their sons that team's first loss all season while the seventh grade team squeaked by with a win over their dads.

The day's success must be credited to Don Adair and Steven Griffith. Special thanks goes to Mickey Landry who took time away from his family to help the eighth grade fathers to victory. Congratulations middle school baseball players and thanks to the families of each player.

▼ "Hey batter, swing!"

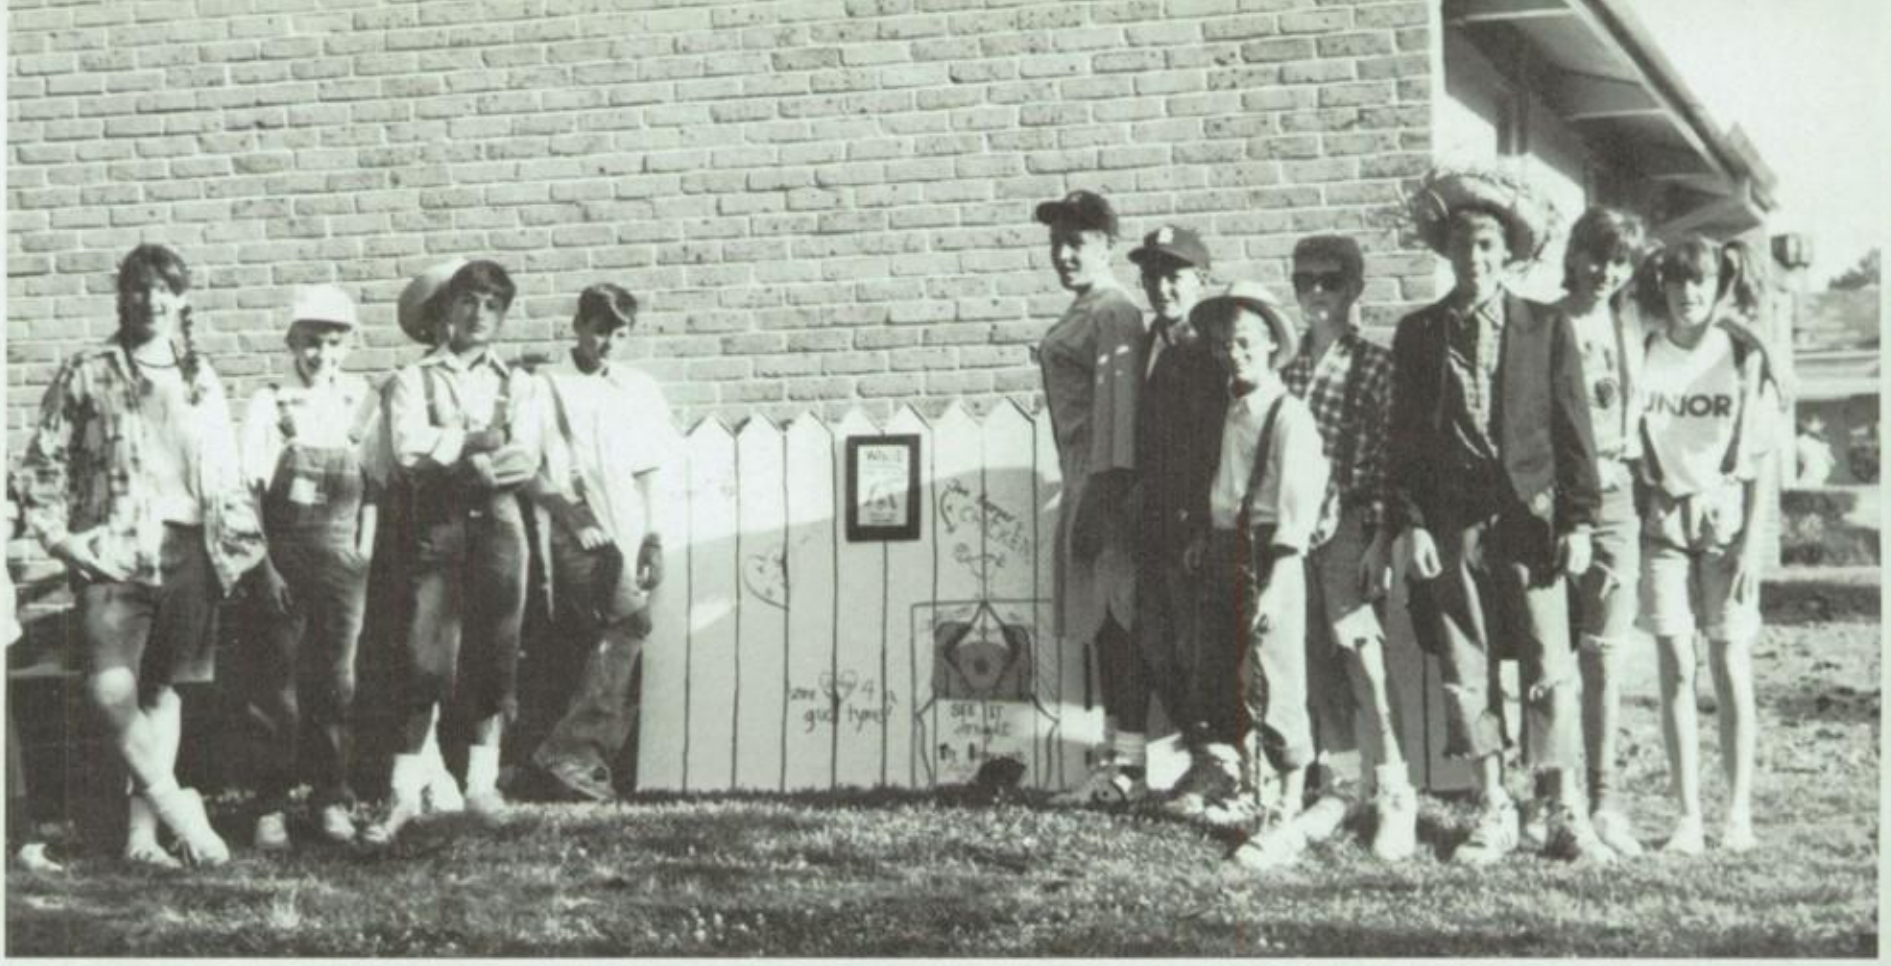
▼ "Guys, I think we're losing."

Wednesday morning, April 27, the eighth grade class was sitting in the airport waiting for their plane. By mid afternoon they were in Washington D.C., that magical place they had studied about all year. The rest of the week they would be walking or riding the metro through Washington. They met with Representative Bob Livingston, sat in on a session of the House of Representatives, and, for the second year in a row, they laid a wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. An added attraction this year was a visit to the Foldger-Shakespearean Library where they watched "Bill's Buddies" perform segments of such plays as Othello and Romeo and Juliet. They also learned about the history of the costumes during that era, and they had the pleasure of seeing two of their teachers and fellow students in those costumes. The trip was very enlightening and exciting, but exhausting!!!

WASHINGTON

8th GRADE OVERNIGHT

According to many 8th graders, the overnight was extremely amusing! They spent what seemed like forever trying to find the camp site when it was finally discovered by Mrs. Herrington and Mrs. Brady. Once they had settled in,the class members split into groups and discussed leadership, then went swimming and played games. After a delicious meal of hot tamales, NO ONE SLEPT! It was an overnight they will not soon forget!



"I'll swallow my gum, honest!"

"In one ear and out the other."

Costume contest finalists.

Tom Sawyer Day

"One . . . Two . . . Three . . . Pull!!!"

"Just relaxing in the shade."

On May 6, the 7th grade embarked on a journey through time — back to the 19th century and life on the Mississippi River. At the Piner Home the 7th graders, dressed in costumes from the day, participated in tug-of-wars and sack races. They also had a live frog jumping contest, a bubble gum blowing contest, and a costume contest. During the day, there was a surprise visit from "Mark Twain" (Paul Longstreth), who told them stories of his life on the Mississippi, and also a live performance by Huck Finn (Sean Grace). They ended the day by eating ice-cold watermelons and relaxing in the shade of the beautiful oak trees.

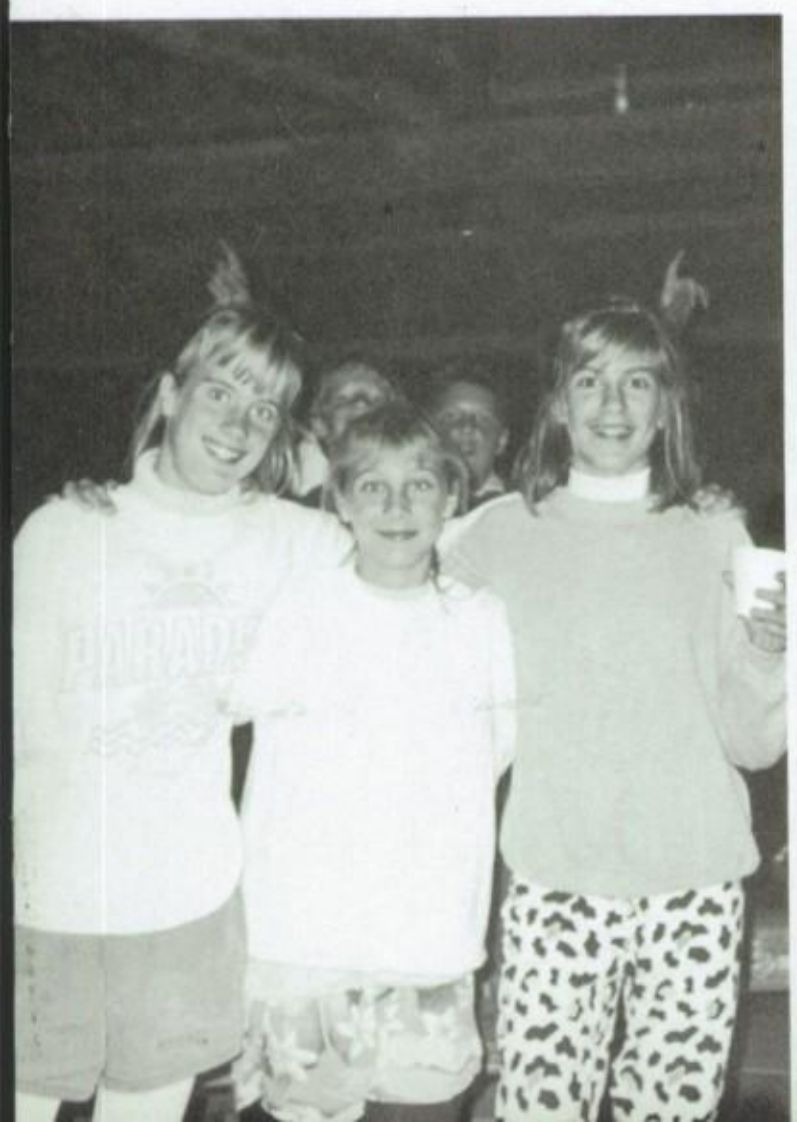
"A typical Tom Sawyer family."

7th Grade Halloween Party

On October 23, the cafeteria took on a different appearance. As the 7th grade arrived, observers could see that this was no ordinary party. From ghouls to babies to bums, the teachers and students alike changed their identities for the night. This is one party that will always haunt the students' memories.

7th GRADE OVERNIGHT

"The 7th Grade Overnight." When teachers hear ose words, a chill runs down their spines, but to the h grades, those words bring smiles to their faces. It as an opportunity for the students to elect class ficers and get to know one another. The fun things ere swimming and games. Anything they did not get do during the day, they stayed up all night to finish!



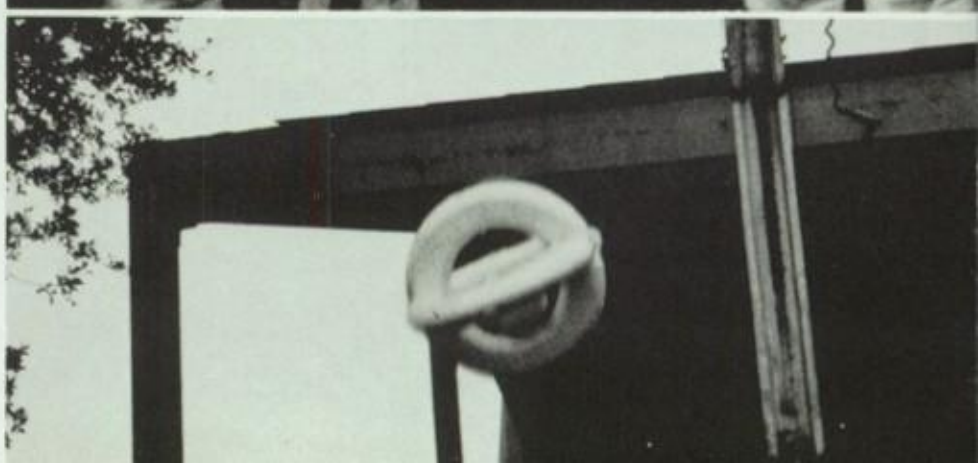
HERITAGE DAY

"Heritage Day" — The 6th grade answer to the World's Fair. The day was a walking tour into history with spinning wheels turning, Indians dancing, presidents speaking, and colonists cooking. They "gorged themselves with good," played original games, square danced and had a "fun, classy, high tech day."

THE EGG DROP

For the second year in a row, Warren Lind's eighth grade science classes participated in an egg drop experiment which tied together many of the scientific principals studied in their Physical Science Course.

Students, in place of the traditional paper, were required to construct a device which would protect a raw egg from breaking when dropped from an approximate height of ten to twelve meters. Project designs ranged from the very simple but effective to the very elaborate. The student built devices were the result of many long hours of thought, discussion, design, and construction. The success ratio was approximately eighty percent and students gained a great deal from the experience.



MIDDLE SCHOOL EVENTS

▲ "Don't we look cute together?"

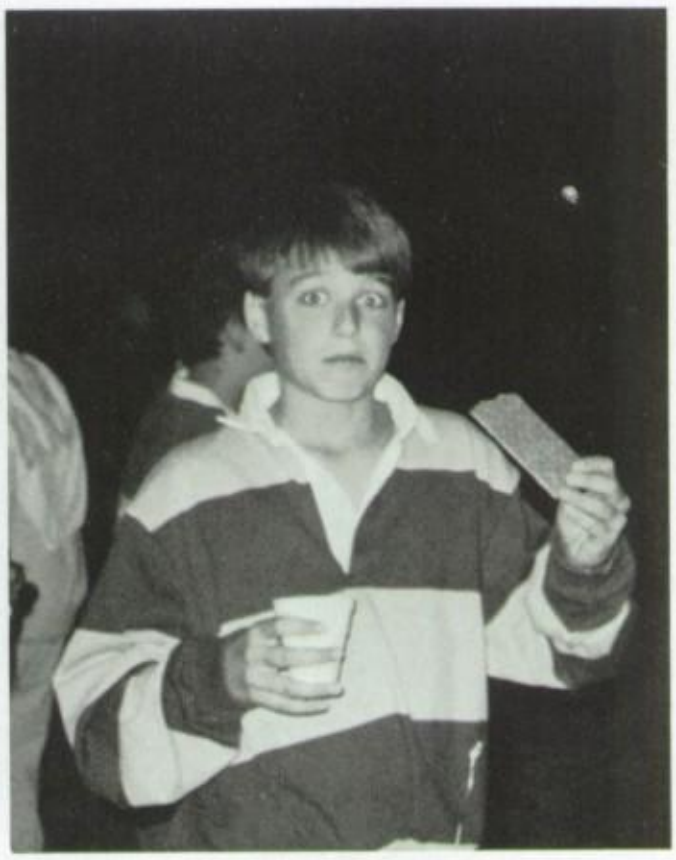
▲ "I had to dress up!"

▲ "We look good even when we're studying!"

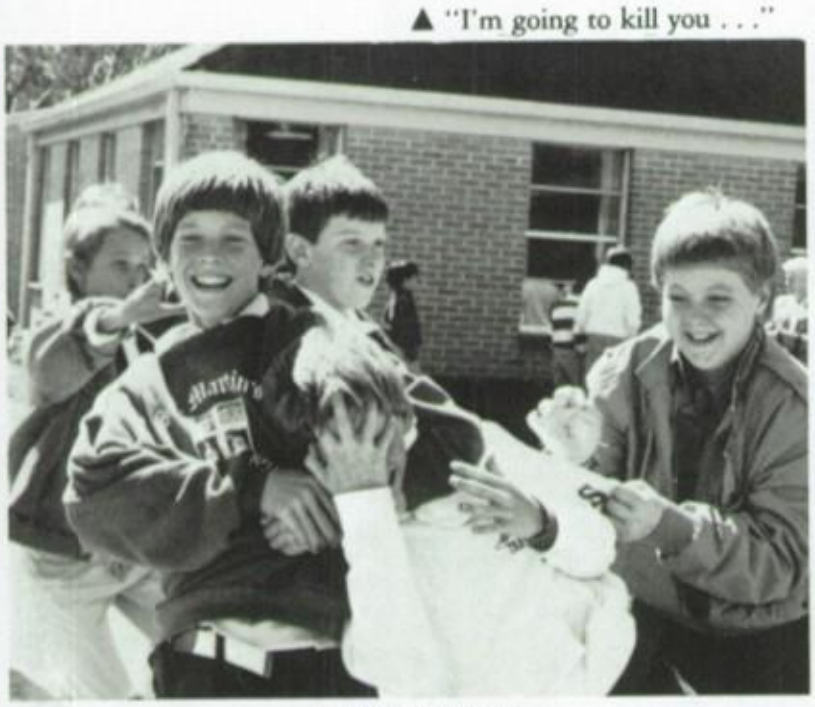
▼ "Please, no . . . I'm sorry!!!"

▼ "Tell me what you said, now!!"

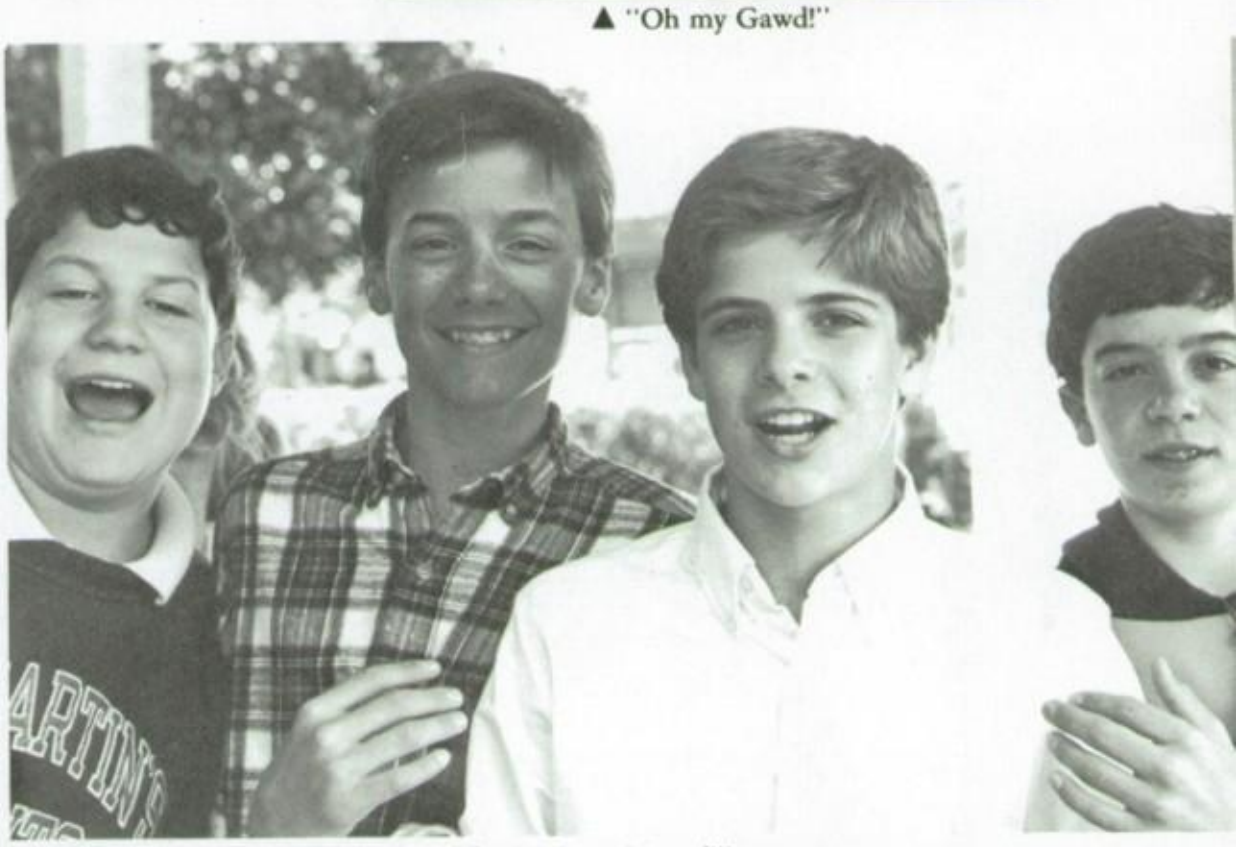
▲ "I'm going to kill you . . ."



▲ "Oh my Gawd!"

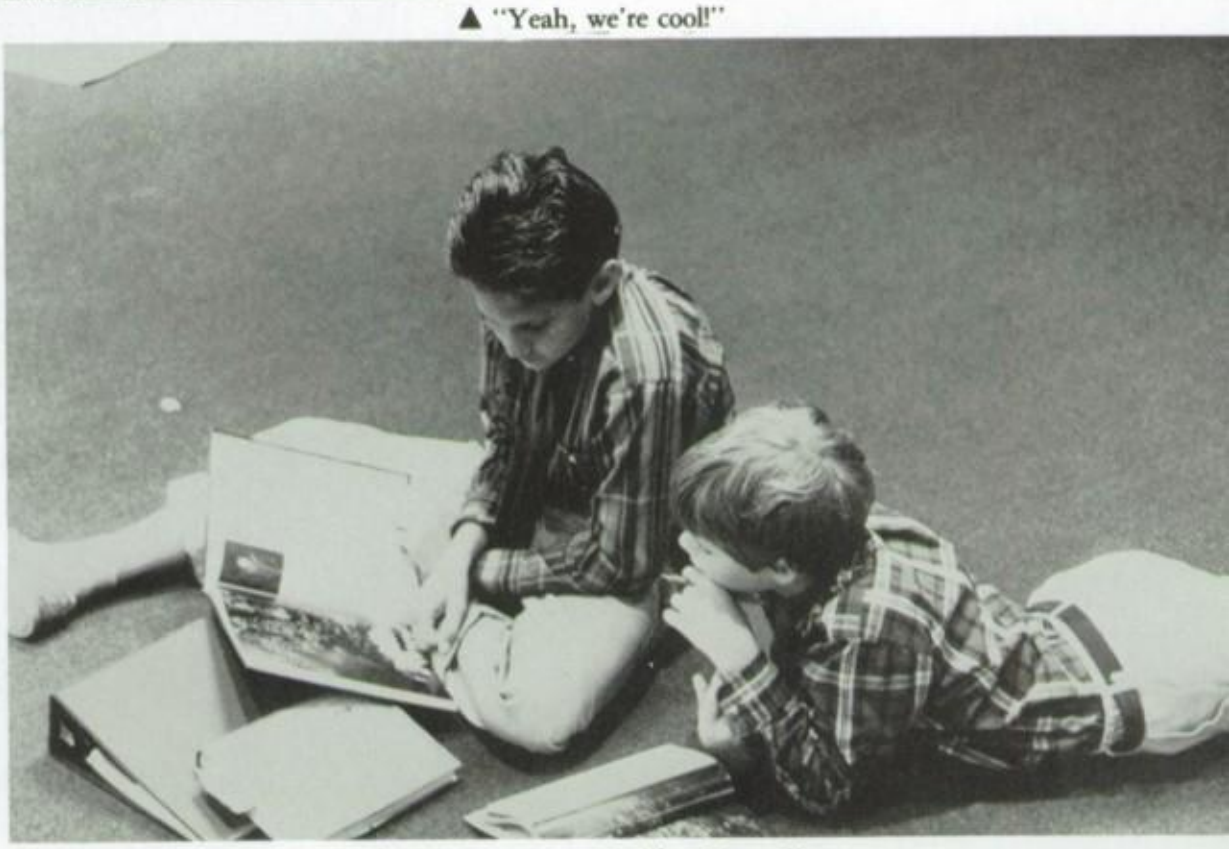


▲ Brotherly love!



▲ "Yeah, we're cool!"

▲ "I can't believe you took that!"



▲ "Now, you see, it's like this . . ."

▲ "Aren't I cute?"

▲ "Honestly, I won't hurt him!"

▲"New hair style, Paige?"

▲ "What are you doing?"

▲ The new fashion — a straight jacket.

▼This is what too much studying does to you.

"Aren't we talented?"

"One big happy family!"

"This is what Father Horgan taught us in basketball."

"We're such a cute group."

"What? He likes Me?!?"

"Oh, no, I think I squashed him!"

▲ "Mr. Lind, I think something's wrong!"

▼ "Can you see my zit?"

▲ "Wow! Where did you get this book?"

▼ "We are the 4 Musketeers!"

1987 proved to be a rough and tumble year for the Saints football team. There was both excitement and disappointment, big wins and narrow losses; but always, the boys were out on the field giving it their all. The Seniors provided excellent leadership for the younger players to emulate. A fine nucleus of underclassmen will return to carry on the fortunes of the Saints.

The Saints were a part of a newly-created and tougher AA district. While the results were somewhat disappointing in terms of wins and losses, the Saints proved that their enthusiasm, desire, and courage were second to none. The players never quit when the going got tough, and rebounded from a couple of heartbreaking losses to a thrilling Homecoming victory over River Oaks. The team featured several All-District and All-Metro players, Sean Keeney, Roger Fowler, and Andy Wittich. The team could also boast many unsung players, who played and practiced without the glory for the betterment of the squad, and who will one day carry the banner of the Saints into future contests.

SHIELD

1988 — the year of the NEW: new editor, new advisor, new staff, new club, new camera, new schedule, new format — all mingled with the traditional.

The year began with an editor, no advisor, no staff! Within 2 weeks, we had, along with the editor, an advisor and a 45 member inexperienced staff. Thirty members of the staff ventured to UNO for a yearbook workshop. We promptly lost 6 members due to terror!

Our first full staff meeting was held in the 9′ x 12′ Shield room. We oozed out into the physics lab and onto the sidewalk. Our most enthusiastic candid photographer was Richard Huang who shot pictures 24 hours a day. No one could walk down the hall without having a flashbulb go off in his face.

We re-organized the staff into 5 divisions, each division having a co-editor. Pam Jenkins, LS; Nancy Wulff, MS; Raynal Ruch, Business; Michael Brunet, Misc. and Lynne Churchill, US and Editor in Chief. Our first deadline was met on schedule. The next 2 — well, let's just say we learned how to work under pressure. We decided to increase the size of the Shield which meant we had to cover almost every event held by the 3 schools, grade levels and classrooms. And we did it!

We would like to extend special thanks to all who contributed to the success of the 1988 Shield: classroom teachers and coaches for their patience, the administration for their support and cooperation, contributing photographers, contributing writers and our sales rep. from Taylor Publishing Company, Mark David.

We hope the 1988 pictorial record is accurate, fun and memorable.

The 1988 Shield Staff

Quiz Bowl

The Varsity Quiz Bowl team competes in a single elimination tournament in a game of trivia which is broadcast on WYES Channel 12. The 1988 team, consisting of Captain Chris Grace, James Parrish, Tyson Vaughan, and Jeff Klein was coached by Mrs. Rellstab, Mr. Leger, and Ms. Long. In the first match, the team defeated Riverdale by a score of 305-65, but they were eliminated by Ganus in the second round. Quiz bowl is a fun way for students to show how much trivia they have accumulated.

The Quiz Bowl B-Team practices with the A-Team to help prepare for matches. The B-Team consists of the following: Standing: Vin Tangpricha, Deon Borwn, Jody Wilson (alternate). Sitting: Stephanie Sarrat (alternate), Claire Snyder.

Student Council

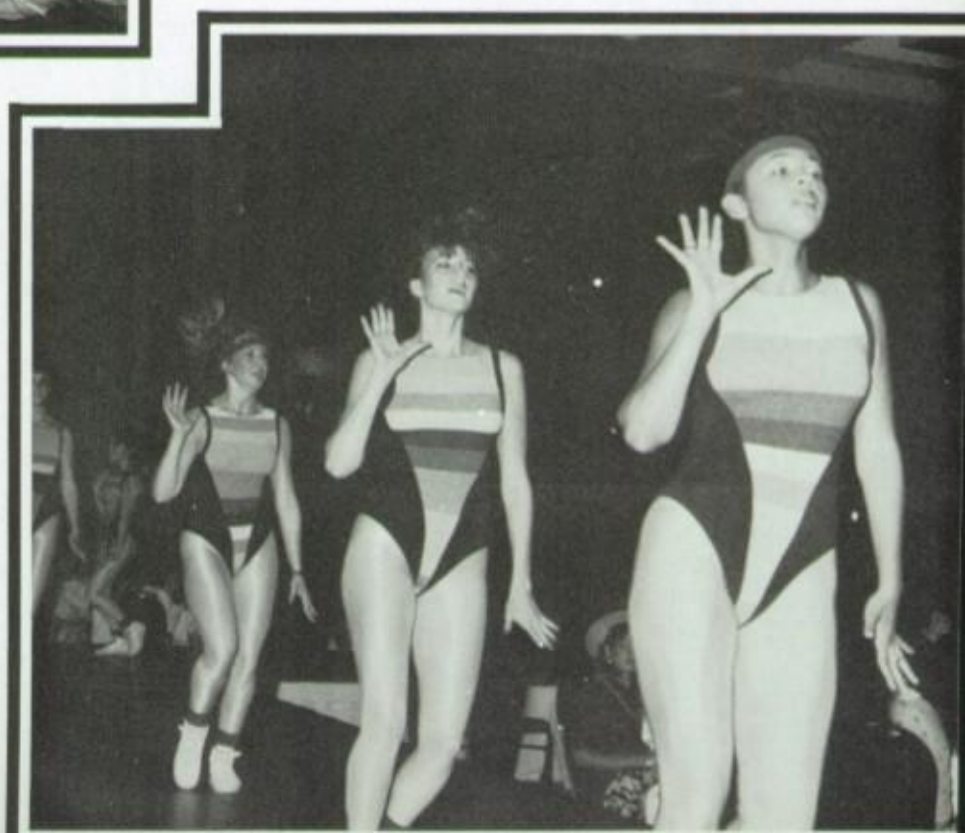
The general purpose of the Student Council is to provide ways and means to promote honor and integrity among the student body, to develop school spirit, to provide practice and experience in democratic citizenship, to provide cooperation between staff and students, and to promote general welfare in terms of Christian living for both faculty and students.



Fashion Club

The 1987-1988 Fashion Club had an excellent year. Their advisors, Mrs. West and Mrs. Caserta lined up interesting guest speakers during the first semester. They learned about hair, make-up, clothes and modeling. After the Christmas holidays, the club members were very busy preparing for the main event, the fashion show which was held at the Hotel Intercontinental. The theme this year was "You Ought to be in Pictures." The Jazzercise girls opened the show with a dance to "We Connect," "Be There," and "Oh Yeah." Lower, Middle, and Upper School students followed wearing casual and formal clothes from Saks Fifth Avenue. The show ended with a grand finale.

Cum Laude

Cum Laude, an international organization, exists in order to recognize academic excellence. Modeled after Phi Beta Kappa, membership is limited to juniors and seniors who are in the top 20% of their class.

Young Republicans

National Honor Society

Left to Right, Front Row: Lisa Arensman, Shelby Snyder, Charlee Marshall, Julie Nolan, Ben Tubb, Lynn Churchill. 2nd Row: Jenny Bingham, Pam Jenkins, Nicole Bailliet, Vin Tangpricha. 3rd Row: Tyra Robinson, Sarah McEachin, Nancy Wulff, Stephanie Sarrat, Ryan Pfister. 4th Row: Eileen Beckman, Tyson Vaughan, Kirk Madison, Kevin Witherspoon, Laura Hartline, Jody Wilson, Trey Hill, Rob Walters, Lacey Wood, Ed Widofsky, Jeanne Wanek, Roger Fowler, Andy Wittich, Raynal Ruch, Sean Keeney.

The purpose of the National Honor Society is ". . . to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character . . ." The National Honor Society is more than a recognition of academic excellence; candidates must also exhibit leadership, service and character. Students in the 11th and 12th grades who have been enrolled in St. Martin's for at least one semester and who have a cumulative high school scholastic average of at least 6.0 (on the weighted 9.0 scale used by the School) are academically eligible for possible membership. The faculty council meets twice a year to review candidates and vote on their acceptability with regard to the qualities of leadership, service, and character.

National Merit

Boys' & Girls' State

Left to Right: Tyra Robinson, Kirk Madison, Laura Hartline.

God Squad

God Squad is a unique group of talented students who assist their advisor Father Mesa in preparing and carrying out the weekly chapel services. They perform numerous duties such as acolyting, ushering, singing, and reading.

Physics Potpourri

Physics Potpourri provides students with an opportunity to play with concepts of physics in an informal, non-classroom setting. Each week students perform an experiment, tinker with an old piece of lab equipment, or just talk about provocative topics in science. The whole idea is to have fun and learn at the same time!

THE Halo

The Halo, St. Martin's student run newspaper, underwent several major changes this year. Editor Laura Hartline and faculty advisor Cailtin Epstein worked to lengthen the paper and to involve more students in the writing and production of the paper. The club has over twenty students on its staff, and they have successfully printed seven issues — including the popular Baby issue. Concentration was kept mainly on printing hard news and then on new features such as "Faculty Corner", "Top Ten . . .", and "Center Stage." Even though the paper switched faces and ideas rather rapidly, it still belongs to Martin's.

Lyre

Kneeling: June Wells (advisor). Middle: Amy Hilliard, Jenny Bingham, Sarah McEachin, Ann Pollard, Nicole Bailliet, Helen Jahncke, Amy Jurevic, Cathy Thomason, Elizabeth Hoskins. Back: Susan Mohammed, Leslie Fensin, Stephanie Sarrat, Sally Mohammed.

The Lyre is an on-campus publication which prints creative writing and artwork submitted by students, alumni, and faculty. Although the staff is made up of Upper School students, the Lower and Middle Schools also contribute their creativity. Staff members give up free time to work as typists, proofreaders, editors, and graphic artists. Many staff members decide to pursue a career in publication. The art and literature that is published often wins awards, and for the past two years, the Lyre has earned superior ratings from the National Council of Teachers of English.

Chess Club

Key Club

Key Club is an international service organization sponsored by Kiwanis International. This past year, the Key Club participated in the International Theme, "... for friendship's sake." Members have enjoyed new friendships with the elderly residents of Metairie Healthcare and the teenage girls at St. John's Home. This has brought St. Martin's students a new perspective on life and showed them how to appreciate everything they have. Numerous fundraising activities provide funds for the many service projects. The Key Club members have enjoyed throwing a Christmas party, a year end banquet, and other social events to balance out all the hard, but fun, work. The Key Clubbers, who are proud of their excellent service record, are known for having fun no matter what they're doing.

This year the Wilderness Skills Program focused mainly on improving students' solo and tandem paddling skills under a variety of conditions. Traversing many rivers of southwestern Mississippi, the group mastered basic strokes, as well as practiced minimum impact camping. In Louisiana's own Honey Island Swamp, the emphasis was placed on improving flatwater technique and navigational skills. Longer trips over the Christmas and Easter holidays were spent meandering through the Keys of the Florida Everglades and "eddy hopping" the whitewater of the Locust Fork and Chattooga Rivers. Overall, the year's trips were successful and enjoyable, and under the leadership of instructor Mickey Landry, the class continues to enjoy its reputation as the finest outdoor program in the South.

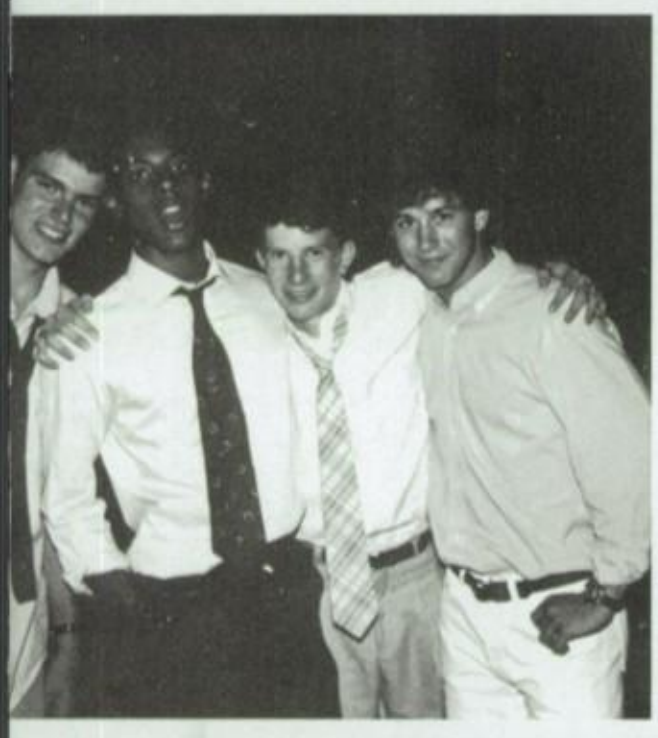
UPPER SCHOOL

(dis) ORGANIZATIONS

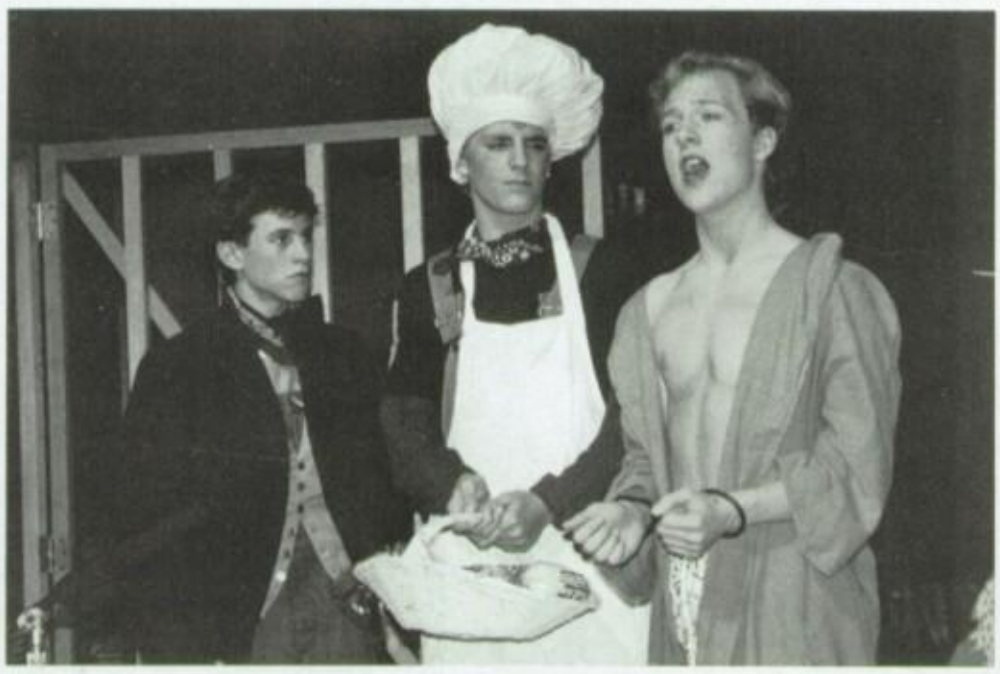
One of the highlights of every junior's year is to receive their class ring. It is a moment of realization; of transition; a rite of passage from underclassmen to seniors.

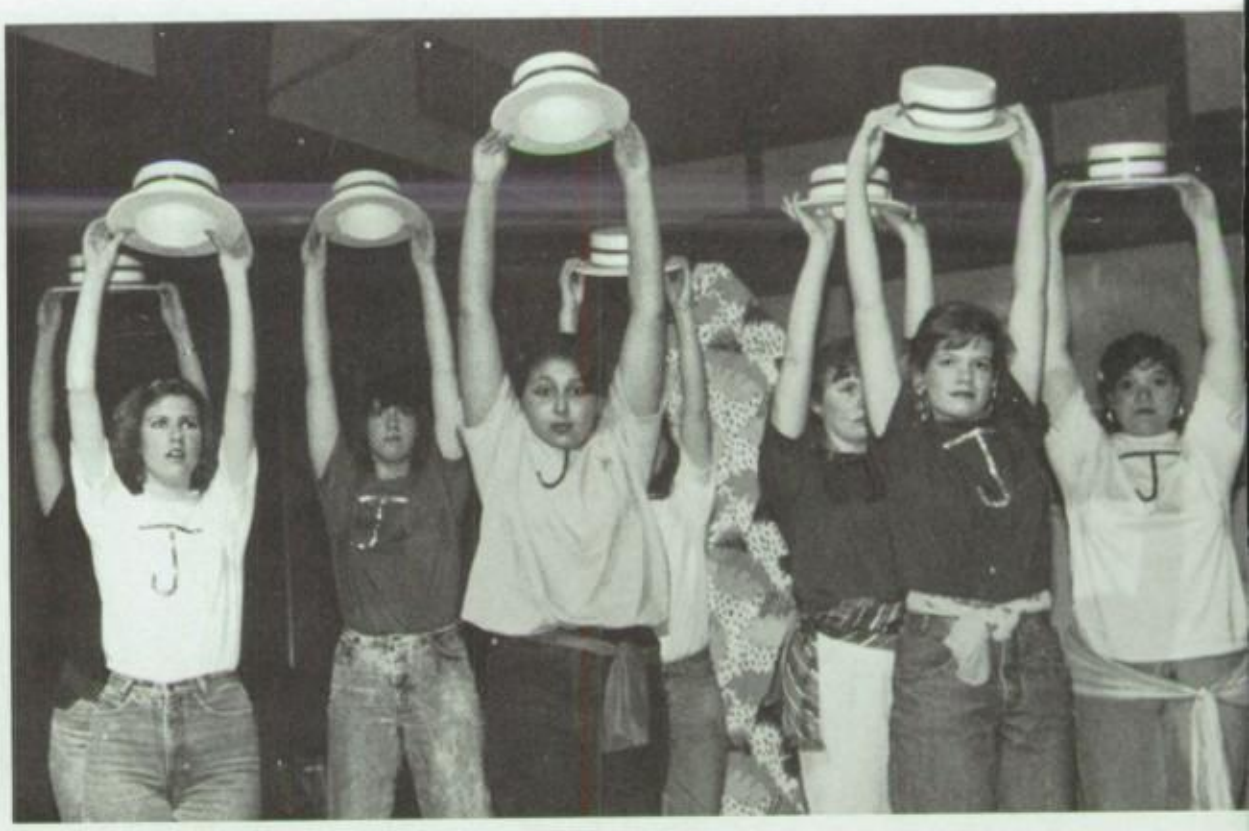
The service was made special this year with an inspiring talk by Greg Domeque followed by Terry Fitzmorris' low-key humor as he called forth the juniors.

After the ceremony, a bus took the juniors and seniors to L'Enfant's Restaurant for a sumptuous luncheon. Afterwards, there was time for conversation and dancing.



Class of 1988

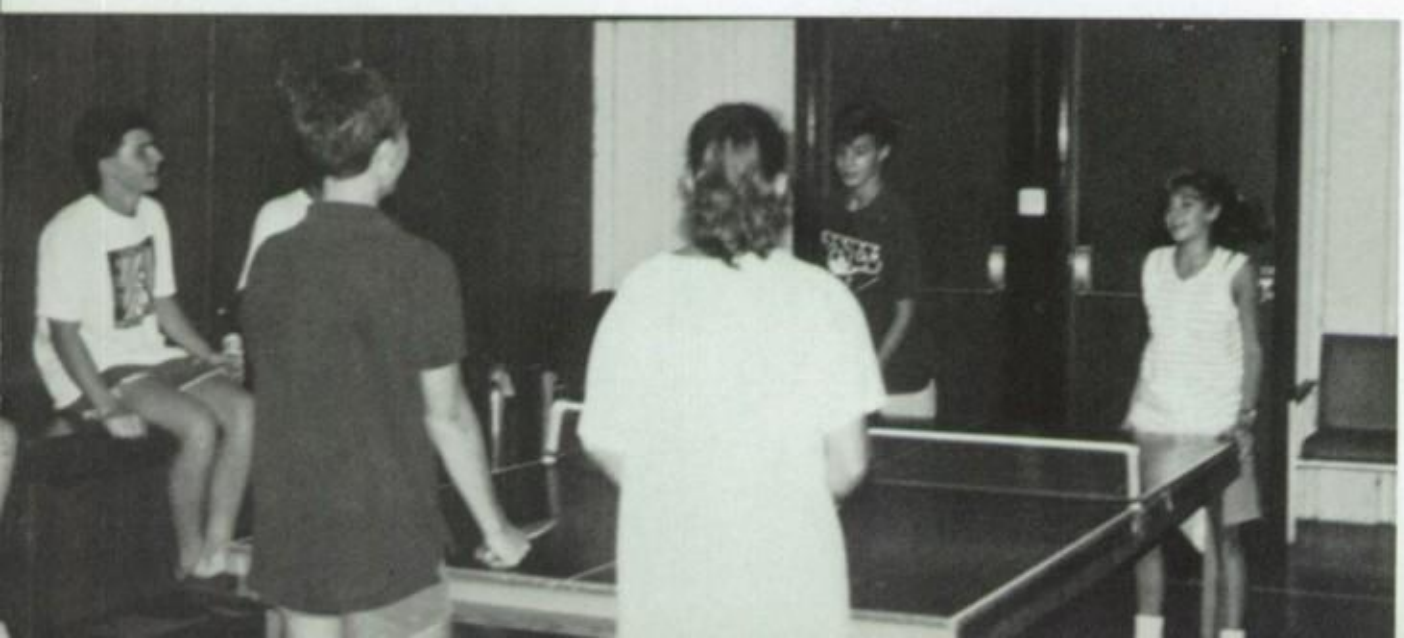




JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT, by Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd-Weber, was the US production this spring — with a crew of about 35, the multi-colored production played to SRO audiences all three nights. It was upbeat, fun, and a little bizarre (who can ever forget those camels and the goat). The play, based on the biblical story of Joseph and his brothers, is presented in a mixed style of country, calypso, 50's rock and roll and vaudeville. A rollicking evening was had by all!

Retreats

The week prior to the official "first day" of school, each upper school grade and their class sponsors go on an overnight retreat to different camping facilities across the lake. The purpose of these retreats is to renew old friendships, initiate new students, establish a class unity and make plans for the coming year. Special activities include shaving cream fights, marco polo, games of all varieties, video marathons, ping pong tournaments, cook-outs and special chapel services. It is a grand way to begin the year.



Senior Sleepover

The cops weren't called! The Class of 1988 managed to stage their annual "sleepover" prank with grand finesse. The next morning, after clean-up, the underclassmen and faculty tiptoed across strewn, sleepy bodies on their way to class. Needless to say, Senior classes were a bit slow and aromatic that Monday.

SERVICE PROJECT

Juniors and Seniors complete St. Martin's graduation requirement by actively contributing time and talent volunteering to work directly in the community with people in need.

"Art is a lie that enables us to realize the truth" — Picasso

E. B. White described writing as an "act of faith, not a trick of grammar." With a lot of faith in the power of words, Judy Thigpen, Dita Andersson, Helen Jahncke, Regan Kelley, Emma Tubb, and Cathy Thomason impressed the judges in the Louisiana State Poetry Contest, placing 1st, 3rd, 5th, 7th, 9th, and 11th. Then, demonstrating their faith in their fellowman, these talented students joined faculty members and other creative writers who dared to read their poems and short stories in the Lyre Chapel.

Judy Thigpen, whose poem "Inner Conflicts" placed first in the state, proudly holds her trophy.

SPEECH CLUB

The St. Martin's Upper School Speech Team has been competing for six years. They competed in Individual Events which include Prose/Poetry, Declamation, Original Oratory, Dramatic and Humorous Interp, Duet Acting and Duo Reading. As of this year they have a budding debate team that shows great promise. The year climaxed with 6 members going to the National Catholic Forensic Competition. The team is coached by James Cox and Chuck Hughes.

The J. Gordon & Lou Ann Reische Outstanding Teacher Award

This award was conceived and endowed by Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Reische, honoring their daughters Julie, Susan, and Kathy with the express purpose of recognizing and rewarding outstanding teaching within the faculty of St. Martin's Episcopal School. This award is given to those faculty members whose considerable enthusiasm, empathy, expertise, and dedication make St. Martin's the revered institution it has become.

THE TIMES-PICAYUNE ALL-METRO ACADEMIC HONOR ROLL

By combining excellence in the classroom, accomplishments in athletics, and being involved in other extra-curricular activities, 16 St. Martin's seniors qualified for the fourth All-Metro Academic Team chosen by the Times-Picayune. To be eligible, a student must be a senior who has lettered in at least one sport during his or her senior year and who has compiled a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.25.

The Literary Rally is an annual academic competition which allows students to demonstrate superior achievement in a number of subject areas. Faculty members select their strongest students to represent St. Martin's at the District Rally held at UNO. Here they compete against students from 21 other Division III high schools. At the State Rally held in Baton Rouge, winners then have the chance to pit their wits against the best in the state.

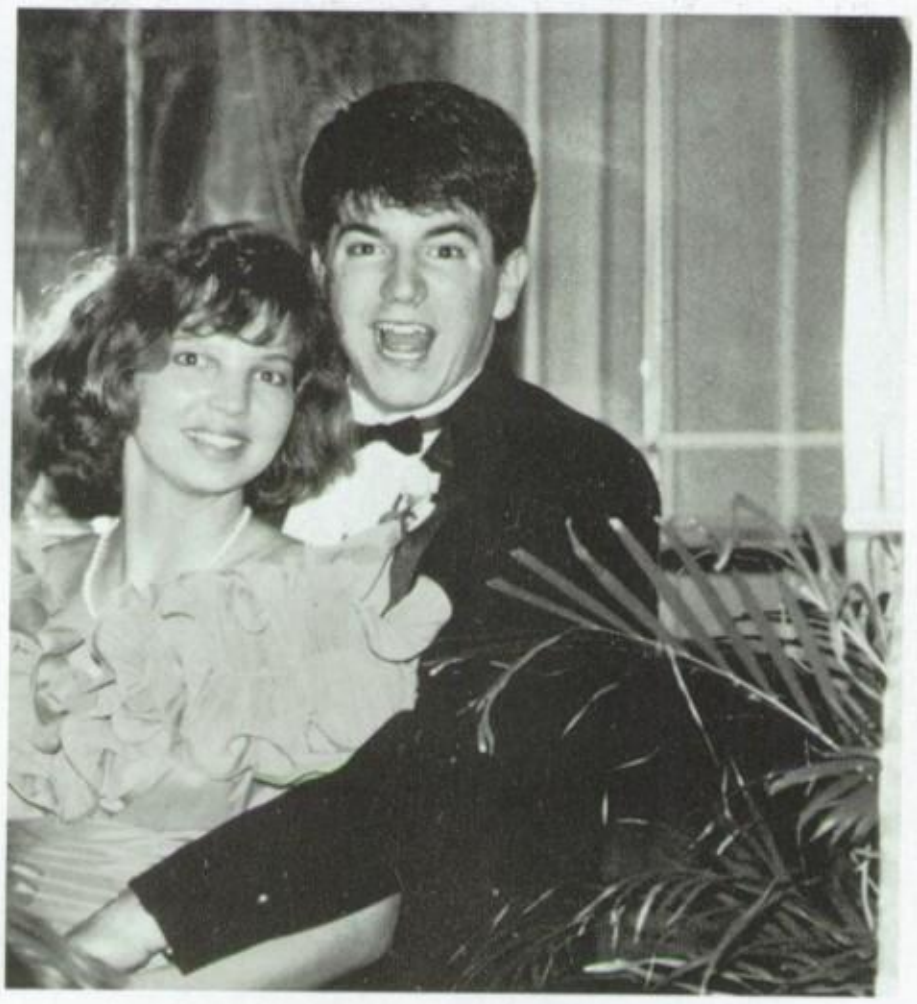
G. Porter Track Award), Lisa Hoffmann (E. Douglas Johnson Memorial Award).

The Athletic Awards Banquet was held at the Clarion Hotel in May. The first awards, Cross Country, were presented by Dave Rice. Coach Rice took his 30 second time allotment and extended it to 10 minutes. He had a lot of wonderful things to say about his team members. Later in the program, Coach Rice presented the Track Awards causing Al Trevino and Tom Bethune to settle in for the night. The evening was not without humor though, for Mr. Schwartz shared some very interesting Aggie jokes with the audience. An unscheduled award was a set of car keys given to Andy Wittich as he received his football award. This event was sponsored by the Dads' Club.

OA



The Junior Senior Prom is one of the highlights that mark the closing of the school year. Everyone gets dressed in their finest, has a lovely dinner, climbs into a "bus" or limousine, and then comes to the dance. This year the Prom was held at the beautiful Le Pavilion Hotel. The food was delicious and the chaperones numerous. Students and chaperones alike danced to the music of the Top Cats while in the lobby, students posed for their Party Pics — those "treasured moments in time."

Students pile into the cars which will take them to Destin, Florida where the condominiums and inns are overfilled with excited teenagers from all over the city. During the week they enjoy the break they have from routine. Students flock to the beach to work on their tans and to swim in the ocean. At night, they meet new faces at parties on the beach and in the rooms. On the ride home, the rookies (freshmen) realize that what they experienced was a rite of passage, and seniors are sad because they will never return to Destin with their same friends again.

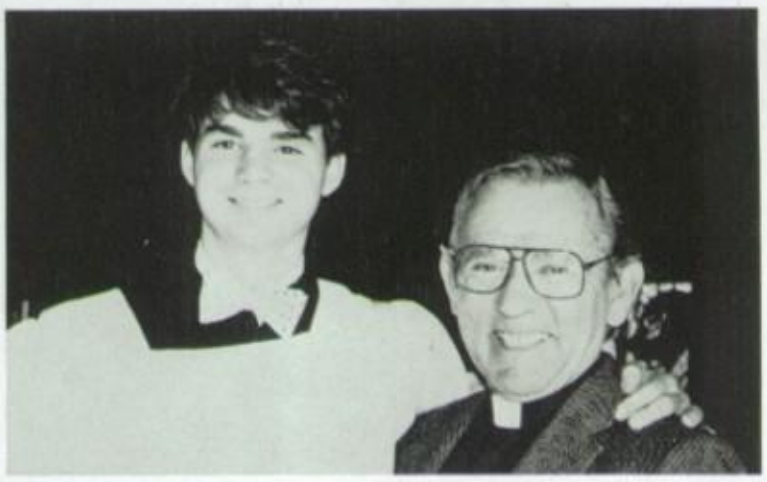
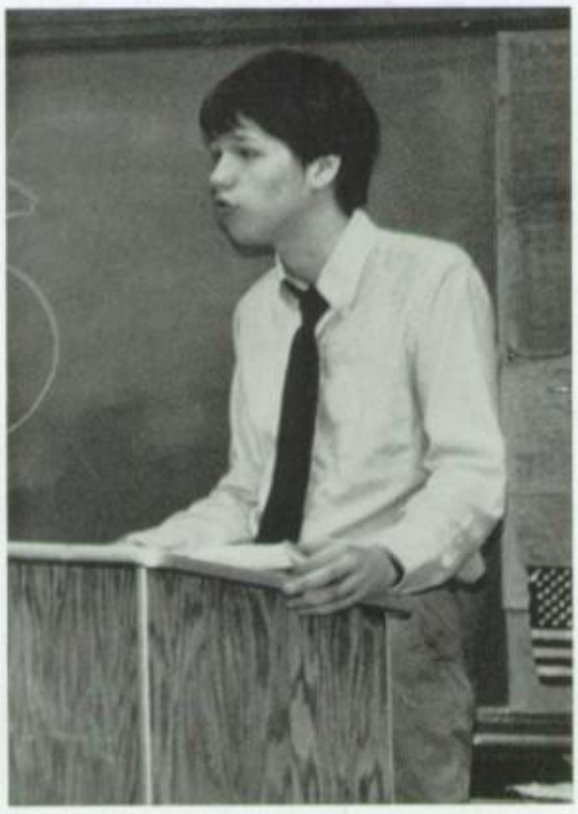
Senior Farewell Address

As we, the class of 1988, spend our last days at St. Martin's, we are full of many different emotions. Of course, we leave our school with excited anticipation for whatever new adventures lie ahead. However, I don't think any one of us truly understands how much he or she will miss this school. So many of our best times have been had here. We have gone through some tough times, too, but we were always there for each other, and we always came out okay. So much of our learning has taken place here, in and out of the classroom. We have seen so many of our dearest friends depart, and have met just as many new ones. And now, it is our turn to depart. Through the last four years, we have greatly matured and changed a lot as a class, but we have always remained friends. Sometimes respected, sometimes misunderstood, we were always the best Senior class we could be. It was not easy, but, as always, we have persevered with each other's help.

To the faculty and administration, there are no words to express how deeply in debt we are to you. The time you have spent working with us has helped so much, and we thank you for being just that — our friends. And to the Class of 1989, a little advice. Give it your all, but always enjoy it . . . it will be over before you know it.

Senior Teacher Day





It's a scary thought; Seniors in charge of an entire school! The faculty gets a little nervous on this day, but the Class of 1988 came through again. Everything ran smoothly, and the substitutes had a great time. We'll never forget John Roger's classic chapel service or "Coach George" McGeehan on crutches. Even the Time Picayune/States Item recognized this special day.

SENIOR WEIRD DAY

On Friday, October 30, the Seniors added a very strange touch to the halls of St. Martin's. It was almost fun going to class because on the way you might have noticed two muscular males in tutus leaping by, or been greeted by Mr. Schwartz's clone. You also probably tried to avoid the Noids or dodged the array of bikers ranging from Road Warriors to Mormons. Weird was definitely the word.

Way to go JUDE!

100% pure SAINT

"You too could have this do."

What a jock!

"Do ya'll smell something?!"

"I do believe it's a bowl."

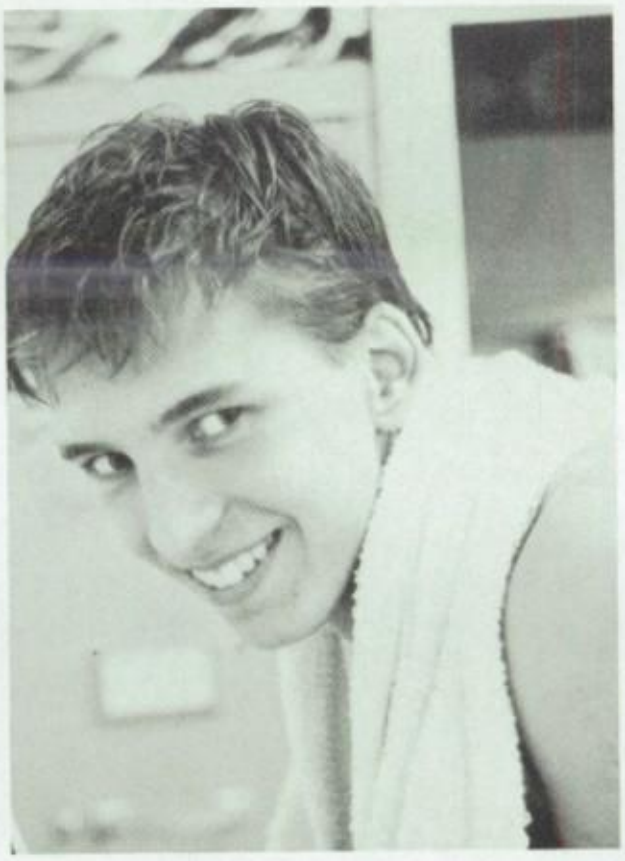
Fletch and pals

Saints' own drummer boy

"You must be joshin'"

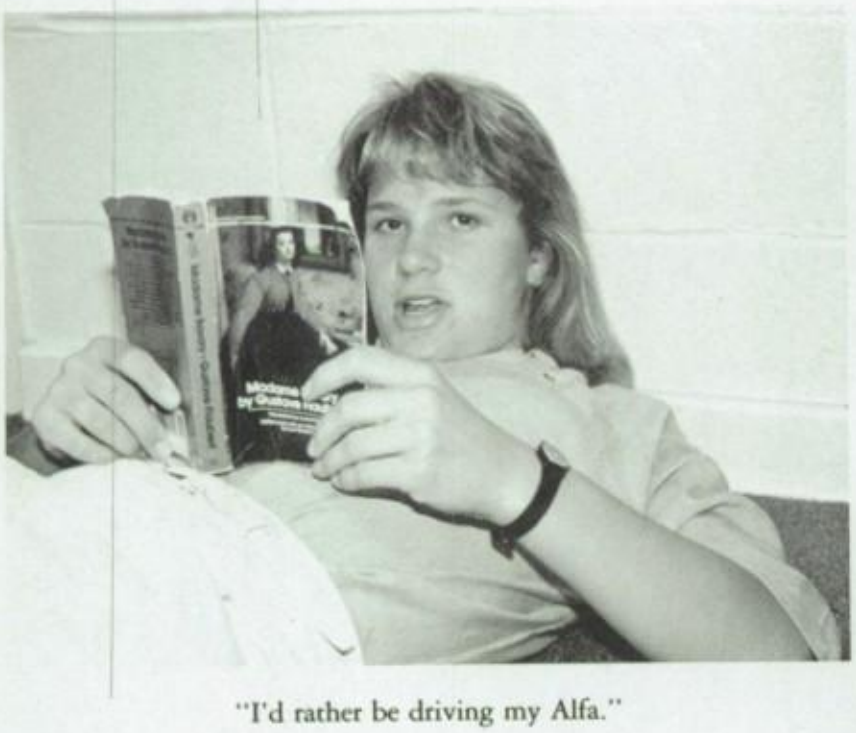
"You should see me on the weekends."

Rockin' with Kuchler!



No explanation needed

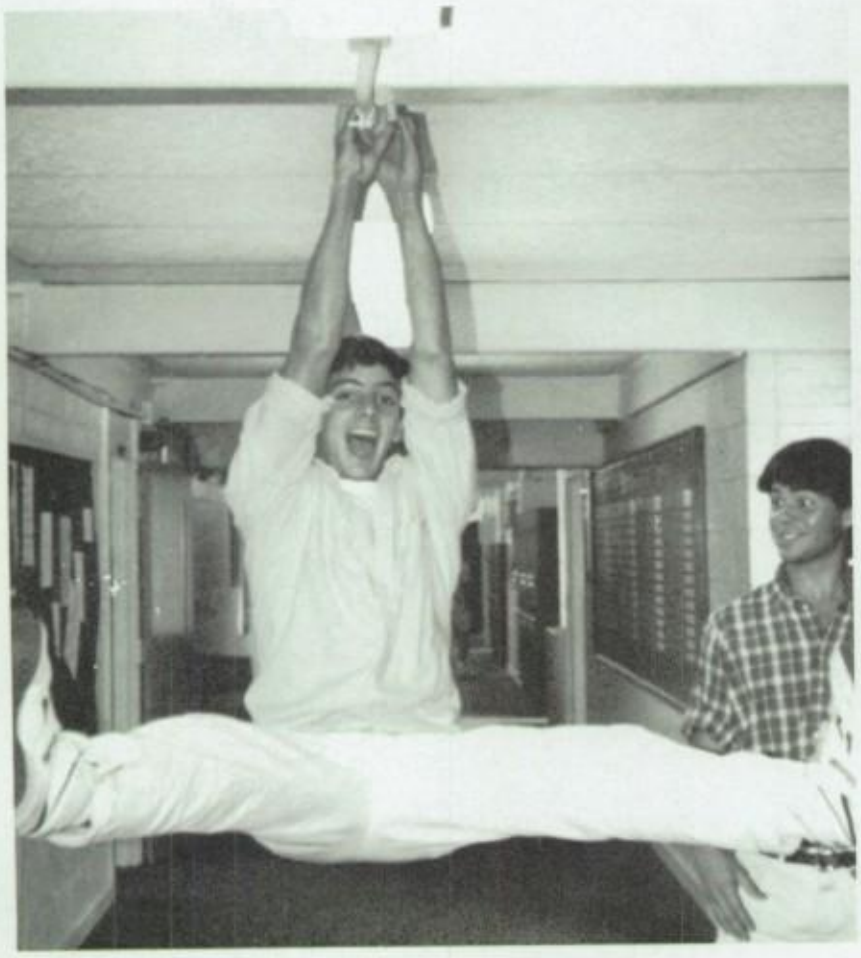
"Bigamy shouldn't be illegal."



"I'd rather be driving my Alfa."

Devil in disguise

Little Cork gets smashed.



Show us your underalls, Remy.

"I taught I taw a putty TAT."

"I've got my eye on you, Jennifer."

"Gooo — SEAN!"

"Hooray for holidays!"

Not Aspen, Vail

In another rare form

"This smile deserves an A+, Mrs. Epstein."

"Hello 20th Century Fox"

"Paris, here I come!"

Pammy Lammy cramming

Slugs sure have cute smiles.

"Okay, I'll smile"

"Of course I'm not chewing gum, Mrs. Stroup."

"I didn't know this was part of being a Saint!"

The look of pure innocence

"You a fool if you mess with my school!"

Big Red

"I've got Burger King's secret recipe."

The laid back Mr. Rogers

"Hey Cheese"

Stands out in a crowd

Gant watches the cheerleaders

Devaiah — A.K.A. "Dave"

"They won't notice if I add a few points"

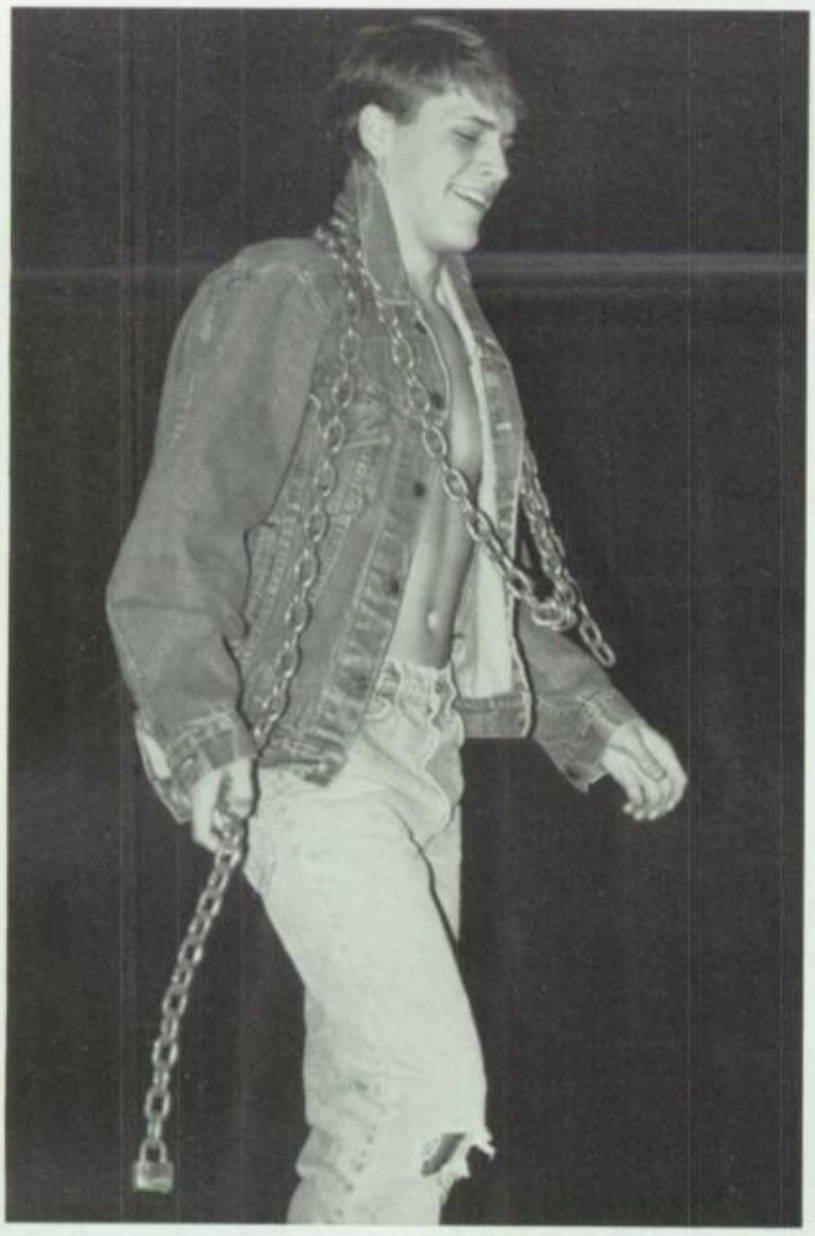
"Cheeese!"

"How many days til graduation?"

The Ragu gets whipped.

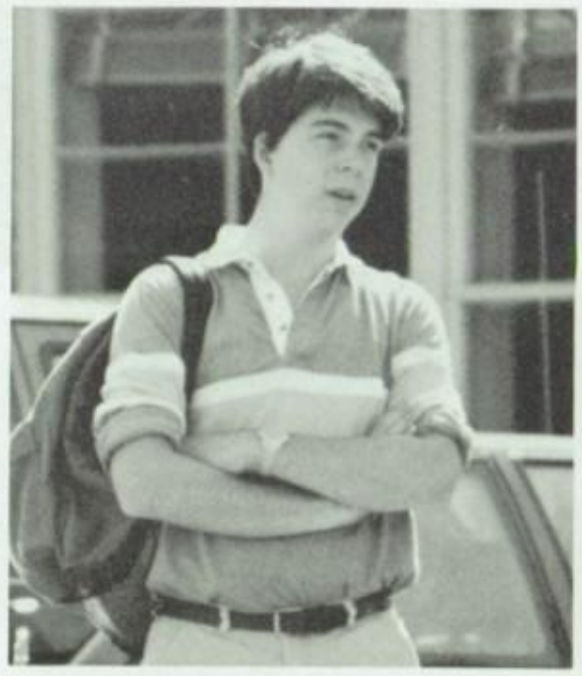
"Just call me Paulina."

"Help! I'm stuck!"

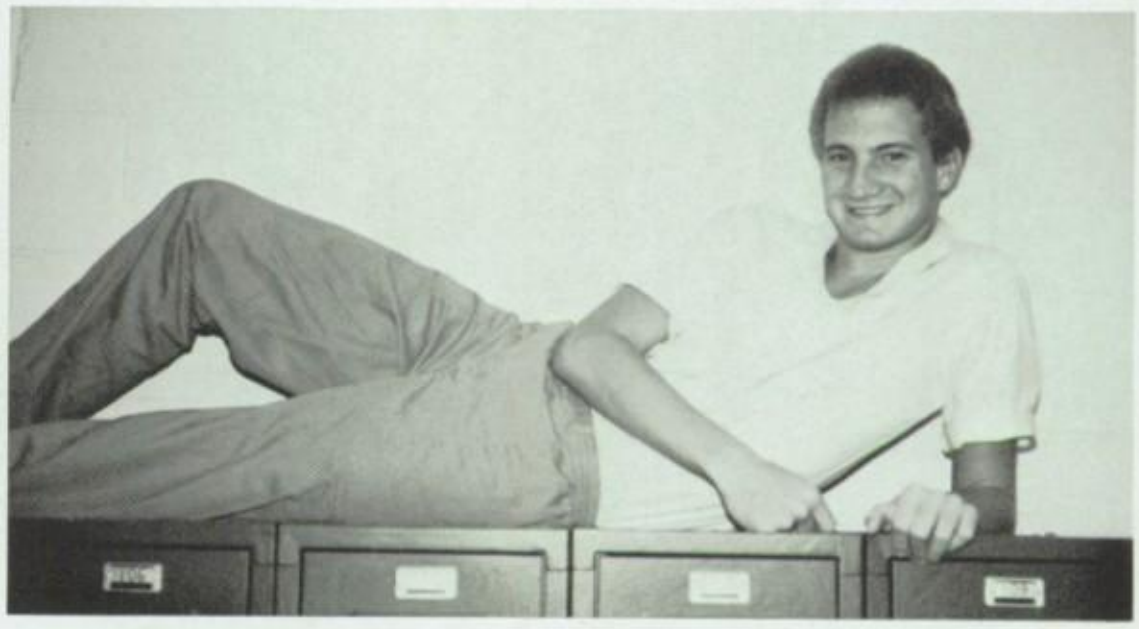


Kirk, what are you into!

"Thank ya daahlings"



"Relatively speaking . . ."



Lookin' hot, Bird

"Tim, is that you!?!"

"Don't call me Ed!"

"It's MY locker!"

Maunsell Monet

Burger Queen

"Where's your pass, dude?"

SENIOR CANDIDS

Who else Butt?

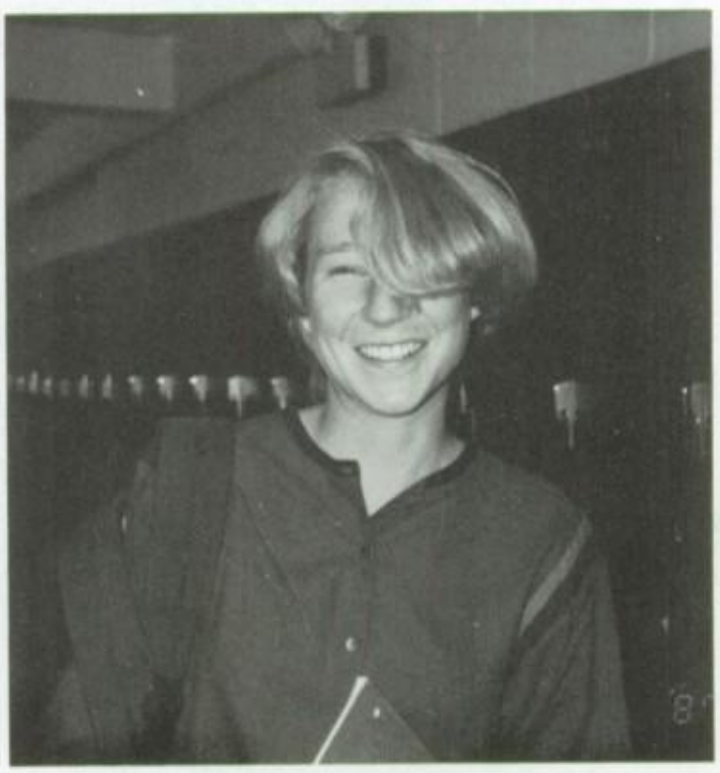
"Now class, a boy meets a girl, then . . ."

Yearbook causes insanity.

"But can you prove it?"

"Water break, please"

"There were onions on my burger."



"Halos are in!"

"We got James real good."

"Where's my locker?"

Paris: Wet pavements. And lights — everywhere there are lights! I come upon a man at an outdoor cafe. It is Andre Malraux. Oddly, he thinks that I am Andre Malraux. I explain that he is Malraux and I am just a student. He is relieved to hear this, as he is fond of me. Malraux would hate to think she is my wife. We talk of serious things, and he tells me that man is free to choose his own fate and that not until he realizes that death is part of life can he really understand existence. Then he offers to sell me a rabbit's foot. Years later, we meet at a dinner and again he insists that I am Malraux. This time, I go along with it and get to eat his fruit cocktail.

What I need to know about how to live and how to be, I learned in kindergarten. Play fair, don't hit people, clean up your mess, don't take things that aren't yours, say sorry when you hurt someone, draw and paint and sing and dance and work some, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together — What a better world it would be if we all put things back where we found them and cleaned our messes, and when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together.

UPPER SCHOOL

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

In November the Fine Arts Department presented this year's all school musical, "The Sound of Music." Thanks to the fine directing of Mr. James Cox, we had the opportunity to be exposed to the exciting world of the Von Trapp family in pre-war Austria. The cast and crew of this memorable production was comprised of a variety of members of the St. Martin's community including students from the Lower, Middle, and Upper School, faculty, and extended community. We even had a grandmother! BRAVO!

CHAPEL

The Dan and Francis White Chapel is the center of campus life. Located in the middle of the three schools, it is the unifying structure, and literally every student passes through its doors. The chapel is a place of worship and of community. We share our sorrows as well as our joys in this building. The chapel facilitates meetings, rehearsals, classes, plays, and religious services. The 1987-1988 school year symbolically began with the annual ceremony in the chapel, and the Class of 1988 closed their years at St. Martin's with their graduation.

HEAVENLY DAYS

Heavenly Days began with a threatening sky, but that did not dampen the spirits of the Fun Run. The hundreds of runners, aged toddler to 70, competed in the quarter mile, half mile, one mile and three mile races. They ran and ran and ran. Trophies were awarded to first and second place winners.

As the day progressed, the sun came out as did the crowd. Food, drink, games, prizes, confetti eggs and super string became the order of the day. The game booths were manned by parents, faculty and students. Dunking the Headmaster was a student favorite! In the little gym, there was gourmet food and beautiful plants for sale.

The Heavenly Revue, held in the chapel, showcased our StM talent. The nation's #1 Showgroup, "Hats Off," opened the vent with the three numbers that gained them their victory. Following that, students performed acts of magic, dances, and piano pieces.

A pat on the back and a big thank you to the Mother's Club for a job well done.

HEADMASTER'S ADDRESS

Dear Class of 1988

A school is only great if it is a caring, stable institution which is both supportive and responsive to the needs of its students and faculty. For forty years, St. Martin's has adapted to change, risen to the academic challenges of four decades, and has maintained its charge to nurture in spiritual strengthening, intellectual achievement, and community service in all members of her family. Each of you has been a part of this growth, adaptation, and challenge. The result is a class which shares many common strengths.

You are a diligent, caring, and stable class. You have taken your academic challenges seriously. Each of you understands the value of intellectual achievement and many of you have aggressively pushed your way through the curriculum rather than allowing yourselves to be passively led.

While there is great diversity of personality in your class, you have chosen to appreciate the value of individuality with openness, acceptance, and a great sense of humor. You respond to each other and the school with laughter, togetherness, and spirit.

Each class experiences the unexpected in the form of a change or a deviation in routine, curriculum, or personnel. Your reaction has been to adapt, maintain direction, and to look for the positive.

The Class of 1988 is a strong class and it is a great class. Like your school, you have been supportive, responsive, caring and stable. You are a class united. May you keep your perspective on individuality and may you remain close for years to come.

Sincerely,

Donald S. Schwartz

A Yearbook is the pictorial record of a school. This book attempts to show through pictures and copy the accomplishments, activities, disappointments, wins, losses, and most important, the people of St. Martin's 1988. The faculty, staff, students, parents and alumni that comprise our school are represented. St. Martin's Episcopal School offers many opportunities for all of us to grow, learn and enrich our lives. The Shield staff has attempted to cover it all . . .
